DEMOCRATS ASSEMBLE

The Well Laid Plans of the Bellefonte Ring Carried Out.

EVERYTHING WENT THROUGH

None But Free Silver Men Democrats—Republicans the Upholders of Trusts, Bossism, etc.—Endorse the Chicago Free Silver Platform.

ONLY STATE ISSUES TO BE VOTED FOR

This was a great day with the factions of the democratic party in the county. A stiff canvass had been made for the different candidates for office and their friends, leaving many heartburnings which will take years to efface, but the Bellefonte managers of the party insisted upon their Slate being put through without regard to the wishes of the country democracy and succeeded to the disgust of many honest democrats of the county. The friends of the Bellefonte ring commenced arriving in this place on Monday and were caucusing until the short hours on Tuesday morning. Tuesday morning there were additions made to the ring and when the delegates began to arrive they were captured and instructed how to perform the wishes of the ring in the convention, which they did without deviating from the plan imparted to them by the slate makers.

The convention was called to order at 12, m., by J. Kennedy Johnson, Secretary of county committee, in the absence of county Chairman, Capt. H. S. Taylor. Hammond Sechler was made permanent chairman.

Mr. Howley and Mr. Dempsy escorted Mr. Sechler to the chair, he returned thanks for honor conferred. He praised all the candidates and smothered down the passions of the disappointed and said they would show their energy this fall, that this was a democratic county and would be continued as such, for all future time. His speech was well prepared and properly delivered but lacked the truth of facts–it was sophomoric.

Dr. W. U. Irvin and A. P. Maize were made tellers John Dunlop, of Bellefonte was made Reading clerk Geo. Bush, of Bellefonte and Mr. Ira Howe of Philipsburg were made Secretaries.

Mr. George Bush in a clear voice nominated Col. Jack Spangler for congress he was unanimously nominated.

W. C. Heinle was nominated unanimously for State Senator. Conferees for both were chosen by the convention.

1st BALLOT ASSEMBLY

Foster 66½, Wetzel 50⅔, Thompson 39 1-6, Koch 21⅔.

PROTHONOTARY.

C. U. Hoffer,	28¼	29½	28¼	28½	39

Newton Spangler was nominated for district Attorney by Geo. Bush as the "soldier boy" Runkle's name was withdrawn and Spangler was nominated by acclamation.

The committee on resolutions reported at this stage of the proceedings arraigning the Republican party for all the pests, trusts, boss ship in the past and the future and endorsed the Chicago free silver platform and yet asserted that in the coming election nothing but State issues are to be voted for; demands of a vigorous prosecution of the war with Spain should be made by the administration.

Mr. Harry Herring was unanimously nominated for county Surveyor, 5 delegates were elected to State convention namely J. M. Kepler, Ferguson twp. Geo. L. Goodhart, Potter; Howard Hysong, Philipsburg; Pierce Musser, Millheim; J. C. Meyer, Bellefonte; J. Kennedy Johnston was made County Chairman. Hon. Geo. A. Jenks of Brookville, Jefferson county was endorsed for Governor.

Human Bones Found,

—A special to Grit from Bellefonte says:

In enlarging the foundations of the Phoenix mill, which was recently burned, the workmen came upon some human bones. They were found upon the site of the house occupied by the Flanigan brothers some 68 years ago, whose many evil doings caused them to flee from justice. Some few years afterwards they were arrested in Cambria county tried, and convicted for the murder of an old lady who kept a tavern on the Pittsburg pike, six miles east of Ebensburg. While in the Ebensburg jail awaiting their execution the jailor's daughter fell in love with the younger brother and let them both out of jail, from which time they were never heard of, although $500 reward was offered for their capture

While residing here two travelers were missed, and although diligent search was made for them, they could be traced no farther than Bellefonte, and the bones found in the excavation are supposed to belong to one of the missing travelers. These bones may have some connection with the ghost that makes its annual appearance in that neighborhood. No later than last Saturday evening his ghostship appeared to Messrs. Joseph McMahon and Louis Doll, Jr., when passing through that neighborhood to their homes late at night. It has also been seen this season by other responsible citizens, whose business took them through that section after 10 o'clock at night.

Loss of the Lady Jane Grey.

George Hiller, Jr., who was a passenger on the steamer Lady Jane Grey, which was sunk about three weeks ago while on the way to Klondike. has written to friends in this city giving particulars of the disaster, which involved the drowning of more than half of the sixty-one persons on board.

Among the passengers on the Lady Jane Grey with young Hiller was Frank Ginther, who had organized the Pennsylvania Alaska Gold Mining Company, and who had in his possession about $3,000 for use in prospecting and mining for gold. In Mr. Hiller's opinion Ginther was drowned with hardly a warning as he believes he failed to hear the alarm of danger sounded when the vessel sprang a leak. Hiller says he will resume the trip to the Klondike as soon as possible.

A New Industry for Bellefonte.

A Co-operative butter and cheese factory, will soon be established in this place, by parties from New York. The cream and milk will be shipped here by railroad and from nearby localities in wagons. When parties living at a distance from town want to furnish milk, separators for skimming purposes will be established in their neighborhood.

—Cures croup, sore throat, pulmonary troubles—Monarch over pain of every sort. Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil.

—If you want to enjoy a day of pleasure in the woods go to the Logan picnic, at Hecla Park, June 17th.

—The new Boiler for the water works has arrived and is being placed in position by the contractors.

—While Spain has a Camara, she should take a picture of her Cadiz fleet, for if it ever leaves port it will never return intact.

The Queen Regent's prayers for peace would be heard a great deal sooner if she would appeal directly to President McKinley.

—It's a mistake to imagine that itching piles can't be cured; a mistake to suffer a day longer than you can help. Doan's Ointment brings instant relief and permanent cure. At any drug store, 50 cents.

MRS. NANCY BARGER.

In Her 107th Year, Congress Votes Her a Pension.

Congress has passed a special law granting Mrs. Nancy Ann Barger a pension of $12 a month. Mrs. Barger resides at Curtins Works, six miles from Bellefonte. She gave her husband to her country in the British war of 1812, and two sons in the Civil war. She was born in Bedford county in the year 1791, consequently is now in her one hundred and seventh year. Her youngest son, who resides with her and who is an invalid from old age, he being in his 78th year, requires great attention from his mother, who is the oldest living person in Centre county if not in the State.

Mrs. Barger lives in a small log house, which was built by her husband when that section of the county was a wilderness, and cultivates with her own hands a small plot of ground which she owns, and boasts of having the best garden in that neighborhood. Up to two years ago she milked two cows and from them produced enough butter, with her garden truck, eggs and chickens, to keep herself and son. This year, and last, she has kept but one cow, which is sufficient to supply her small family with milk and butter. She has no need of eyeglasses, does her own housework, and is enjoying good health, her only mental deficiency being in her growing deafness as age advances. She has a clear and distinct recollection of all the stirring events that took place in the county since its organization up to within the last 20 years. In this respect she is a most remarkable person.—Grit.

Notes on Tuesday's Democratic Convention.

Every precinct in the county was fully represented. Although there were no contesting delegates yet the president appointed a committee on credentials.

It was the first time since the commencement of the slate-holders democratic rebellion that the American flag was displayed in a democratic county convention.

In withdrawing his name from before the convention Wm. Runkle, Esq., stated that he had visited the democrats of the county, had associated with their families, had been entertained by them and had slept with them and returned his thanks for their support.

For some reason Calvin Bower, Esq., was turned down by his democratic friends for delegate to the state convention.

There was but little enthusiasm in the convention and the most of the ticket nominated fell like a wet sheet upon many of the delegates who are already swearing vengeance upon the nominees and the ring that forced the nominations upon the party.

The convention gave the cut direct to our friend P. Gray Meek, who is a democratic candidate for governor, by endorsing the candidacy of Geo, A. Jenks for governor by resolution.

All the candidates but one nominated are residents of the North Ward of Bellefonte. This is to give notice to other democrats that if they want office in the future they must move into that ward.

Constable Dunlap, of the North Ward, made an excellent reading clerk. In fact if it had not been for him the convention would have stalled.

George Bush, who was a half delegate from the South Ward, made most all the nominations and motions in the convention.

Death of an Aged Lady.

Mrs. Margaret Campbell aged about 65 years, relict of the late Patrick Campbell of this city, died of paralysis at an early hour Wednesday morning, at the residence of her nephew, Mr. Henry Fox on the old Lewistown pike.

The deceased was a conscientious christian lady and leaves to mourn her death, a host of friends. The funeral will take place Friday morning at 10 o'clock from St. John's Catholic church of which she was a member. Interment in Catholic cemetery.

—Monday the examinations began at the Academy in the mathematical department under the supervision of Rev. J. P. Hughes. On Wednesday the examinations were continued in the Primary department in charge of Miss Helen E. Overton, this Thursday in the English department in charge of Miss Julia L. Reed and on Friday in the languages conducted by Mr. J. R. Hughes. Today and to-morrow the examinations for Princeton will be held simultaneously with the school examinations.

WAITING FOR TROOPS TO ARRIVE

Tongues Of Spitting Fire Surrounded Marines Camp All Night.

TWO OF OUR MEN KILLED

Attempt of Cubans to Co-Operate with Hard Pressed Americans Not A Success —Fired In Among Them—Marines Battling To Hold The Shore Till Troops Arrive.

15 SPANIARDS KILLED BY COMPANY D.

CAMP OF THE UNITED STATES MARINES, OUTER HARBOR OF GUANTANAMO, Monday, June 13.—Noon—via Kingston. Jamaica, June 14.—7. a. m.—After two nights of hard fighting the American flag still floats on Cuban soil over the encampment of the marine battalion and our boys say they will keep it there until the belated troops arrive if it takes till winter.

Thus far the marines have had the best of the fighting, but the situation is grave and they are exhausted with repelling almost incessant attacks. They have little chance of rest or sleep and the time of the arrival of the relieving troops is uncertain. Were it not for the protecting guns of the fleet the gallant little band would be annihilated by the Spanish troops, in overpowering numbers from Santiago de Cuba. As it is they probably can hold their position, but they cannot move foward until reinforced by troops.

On the American side two men were killed and four injured. The dead are:—Sergt.-Maj. Henry Good of the marines, shot through the right breast. Private Tauman, wounded and fell off the cliff and was instantly killed.

The injured are:—Private Wallace. fell off the cliff and sustained a fracture of the leg; Private Martin shot through the left leg; Private Roxbury, shot through the arm. The above are all privates belonging to Co., D. Private Burke was shot through the arm.

The first attack of the Spaniards was made at 8 o'clock and the last shot was fired by them at about 3 o'clock in the morning.

Lieut. Neville of Company D was sent out on scout duty and as on the previous day, he attacked a small stone fort. A hot fight followed and the Spaniards were driven off with loss. It was during this fight that Wallace and Tauman fell over the cliff.

Fifteen dead Spaniards, including one lieutenant, were found in the fort.

During the attack several shots struck the ships in the harbor one penetrating the pilot house of the Associated Press dispatch boat Dandy. No one was injured on board of her.

The night attack was a picturesque and striking spectacle the crack of the Mausers, tongues of fire from every bush encircling the camp, the twitter of the long steel bullets overhead, while the machine guns down on the water was ripping upon the pickets, and the crash of the field guns could be heard as they were driving in cannister where the fire of the Spaniards was the thickest. Then there was the screech of the Marblehead's shells as she took a hand in the fight and the sharp, quick flashing of the Colts rapid-firing 1-pounder guns from the effectively placed ship launches.

The Dolphin this morning located the Spanish water station on the ocean side of the harbor entrance, which supplied the water for the attacking forces. The well was situated in a block house windmill, having a small garrison. It was shelled at 2,000 yards. Excellent practice was made, the station was wrecked and cannister followed the retreating Spaniards up the steep ravine. Each shell disclosed the spot where it alighted by raising a cloud of dust. They were all well placed. The arrival of the fleet to complete the bombardment of the town and its defenses is expected this afternoon.

GUANTANAMO BAY, Sunday, June 12.—Noon—Via Kingston Jamica, June 13.—After the thirteen hours' skirmish between the United States marines, under Lieut.-Col. R. W. Huntington, and the Spanish guerrillas and regulars, it was expected that the fighting would be renewed. The Marblehead was landing reinforcements and nothing had been heard from the advance pickets under Lieut. Wendell C. Neville and Lieut. Neville J. Shaw.

At 9 o'clock the firing was again renewed by the Spaniards,

OLD FORT PENN

A Splendid Monument Erected on This Historic Spot.

BY DAUGHTERS OF THE REVOLUTION

It Was Dedicated on June 9th by the Bellefonte Chapter—It is an historic Spot and the oldest Fort in this State.

SOME FACTS ABOUT ITS HISTORY

The Bellefonte Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution on Thursday last erected a beautiful monument, weighing 5000 pounds, at the old fort in Penn,s Valley, for the purpose of perpetuating the true location of the Indian fort built about the year 1777, and now known as Potters Fort.

This monument stands at the intersection of the Kishacoquillas Turnpike, with the Bellefonte and Aaronsburg Road, a short distance in front of the Old Fort Hotel. The monument is an artistic piece of Mills granite, about four feet in height and three feet square. Upon the polished face of the monument, fronting the fort, there is this inscription:—

Erected June 9, 1898,
by the Bellefonte Chapter of the
Daughters of the American Revolution.

An iron fence will inclose the monument.

NOTED HISTORICAL SPOT.

Great credit should be given to the Daughters of Bellefonte Chapter for the public spirit manifested in thus marking at their own expense perhaps the most noted historical spot within the limits of Centre county. But few persons to-day know the exact location of the indian fort. It stood within the present limits of the farm belonging to Colonel Taylor, of Lewistown. There is a farm building erected over the foundations of the fort. The excavation for the fort can yet be seen under this building. There is an excellent spring of water near by from which the fort is supplied. Tradition states that a passage way was either cut to the spring, or breast works erected so as to protect the settlers in going to or from the spring.

In the early history of this fort the country surrounding it was almost a wilderness. The Indians inhabiting the country, lurking in forests, sought occasion to molest the settlers, and when these fled to the fort for protection the Indians lay in ambush to kill and murder them at every opportunity. There are a number of graves in close proximity to the fort, where settlers who were killed by the Indians were buried, and there are two or three Indian braves.

FAMOUS INDIAN CHIEF.

The fort was situated within a district of country occupied by an Indian chief named Bald Eagle. This chief had his "nest" near the borough of Milesburg, on the Bald Eagle Creek. There was a well-beaten Indian path, traversed by the Indians between the Bald Eagle Valley and the Kishacoquillas Valley, in Mifflin County. Logan, the celebrated Indian chief, occupied and traversed this portion of Pennsylvania.

Penn's Valley, where the fort is located, is now one of the most beautiful sections of the State, thickly settled, highly improved and cultivated, with five churches and school houses, and large towns in close proximity to the old fort. The enterprising borough of Centre Hall is within sight of it.

One hundred and twenty-one years have vastly changed this section. A stranger would scarcely think that a hundred years ago it was the abode of wild beasts and savages.

WON AN EXCITING GAME.

Bellefonte Academy Defeated the Strong Mackeyville Team Wednesday.

WON BY A NARROW MARGIN

A Lock Haven Twirler Kept Them Guessing Until the Seventh When He Was Knocked Out of the Box.

HENDERSON'S HOT HOME RUN

The crack Bellefonte Academy ball team won a notable victory at Hecla Park June 8th, when the strong Mackeyville nine was defeated in a red-hot nine-inning contest, every minute's play being exciting.

The ball tossers from the *H*ill perceived from the manner in which the sphere was shot around the bases in Mackeyville's practice that their work was cut out for them and they filled their contract in championship style. There was an additional incentive to defeat this strong team for the Lock Haven Normal School was defeated by it this Spring, and since the latter team backed out of their scheduled game with the Academy whereby the local crackajacks gained the amateur championship of central Pennsylvania, every mother's son of them was resolved to win and so prove what sort of humble pie would have fallen to the pedagogues.

The game was called at 2:45, Academy winning the toss and taking the field. MacIntyre was in the points for the Academeians and struck out the first three men up. In the Academy's half, Henderson, with two men out, rapped out a beautiful four-cushion shot. The ball went on a line to the right field fence and the big catcher had plenty of time to ramble home.

Both twirlers then settled down to work and scores were few and far between until the lucky seventh, when by bases on balls and four good solid hits the ball-tossers from the Hill landed five men at safe harbor and won the game then and there. Diebler was knocked out of the box and was replaced by Brumhard. Diebler was last year's crack twirler on the Lock Haven Normal and has pitched for them and the Lock Haven Central League team this year. The cannonade of base hits subsided with Diebler's exit from the box but the Academy had runs to spare and did not bat in their half of the ninth.

Henderson did not catch in his best form, three runs coming in on his passed balls, but his batting practically won the game as his two-bagger was made with three men on bases. Cummings, Curtin and Potter played the best fielding games for the Academy, while Henderson and Otto led in the batting. Smull caught a fine game for Mackeyville, not a man stealing second on him. He formerly caught for the Sunbury league team. Wolhouser led their batting with two hits which brought in three runs. Two double plays marked the contest, one each by the opposing teams. For the Academy a hot grounder was sent Ottowards and the crack short ate it up, slapped it to Potter who fielded it to first; Wolhouser made the other unassisted.

A large crowd witnessed the contest and it was the unanimous opinion of all present that a prettier game hasn't been played in this neck o' woods for many a long day.

The Academy plays at Philipsburg with the strong professional team of that place on next Tuesday, the 14th, and may then play either Mackeyville or Lock Haven Normal at Hecla Park, on Friday, June 17. Winning these games will give a clean record for the ball tossers from the *H*ill. The Academy management has done its best to secure a game with State College 'Varsity but thus far has failed.

The score of yesterday's game follows:

HARRISON EXTOLES HOBSON.

Ex-President Calls His Exploit the Bravest Known.

CHICAGO, June 7.—"I consider the American navy, ship for ship, gun for gun and man for man unequaled by any navy in the world today," said ex-President Harrison today. "The courage and daring of our men, the personnel of the officers of our ships, the gunnery, the nerve and spirit manifested in all done, offer to the world the spectacle of a navy of which there is no superior."

While declining for obvious reasons, to discuss the war itself, Mr. Harrison spoke with enthusiasm of the greatness of the act of Lieutenant Hobson is sinking the Merrimac in the harbor of Santiago.

"The act of Lieutenant Hobson," he said, "has few if any parallels in the history of the world. At Manila the act of Commodore Dewey was brave. but he entered a hostile harbor able to give shot for shot, to beat down his assailants to triumph by the force of his own arms.

"Lieutenant *H*obson and his heroic crew not only went with the Merrimac into the range of an awful fire, unable to reply, but the interior of their own vessel was loaded with torpedoes for her destruction at the proper time.

"They went in unable to fire one gun at the enemy and prepared to destroy the very deck under their feet. We search the pages of history in vain to find some act of heroism for country and flag that approaches this."

The case which brings Mr. *H*arrison to Chicago is the famous Sny Island levee bond case technically known in the courts as O'Brien et al, versus Wheelock et al. The magnitude of the case may be known from the fact that it involves 110,000 acres of land, valued at over $1,100,000, and special assessment for the construction of a levee which, if confirmed by the courts will aggregate between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000.

An Eccentric Woman Used a Barrel for a Bank.

Under an order by Judge Kohlsaat, of the probate court, Homer B. *G*alpin, as conservator of the estate of *M*argaret Keegan, went this morning to his ward's house to take possession of whatever personal property he might find. Mr. *G*alpin took with him Deputy Sheriff Charles Smith and a court bailiff, and a thorough search of the premises revealed an old barrel, covered with carpets, in a cupboard adjoining Mrs. Keegan's sleeping room. This barrel was taken into the kitchen by the two officers, who found great difficulty in carrying it. After the lid was broken off, there appeared a large tin canister full of silver currency, the coins being dimes, quarters and halfdollars. A lot of money rolled on the floor. Deputy Smith secured a washtub and the money was placed in it, nearly filling it. *Mr. G*alpin then hired an express wagon and the money was taken to the Chicago National bank, where it was counted. There was nearly $4,000 in silver in the tub. Mrs. Keegan has been eccentric in her actions for some time, and Mr. Galpin was appointed conservator for her estate last April. Mrs. Keegan has kept her money in this way for some time. She was obliged recently to vacate a house at Central avenue and West Twenty-first street, which she formerly owned, but which she allowed to be sold for taxes. At that time she lost $7,600 from the barrel, and she charged that her son-in-law, O'Brien, took the money.

The Summer Girl.

The summer girl is going to be of two kinds. One will be crisp and cool and clean in starched muslins, and the other will be soft and downy like a flock of little chickens. The first will wear dimities, percales, piques and organdies. The other will affect the mulls, silk and cotton and dainty Persian lawns and the weblike batistes. The first will have little trimming beyond a neat and tidy finish, with a snug belt, while the other will be nearly smothered in a form of lace. One will wear skirts plainly hemmed or at most tucked, and the other will have lace ruffles until no one could compute the number of yards of lace employed. For the thin summer dresses the quality of ruffling almost passes belief. The sleeves are shirred and puffed and frilled until one is almost lost in a maze. The waist is as fluffy and puckery and as stifled in delicate lace as the rest.

History of Our Flag.

The first United States flag adopted by congress June 14, having the stars and stripes, was made, it is said, out of soldier's white shirt, an old blue army overcoat, and a flannel petticoat. It was hoisted by our army at Fort Stanwix, (near Rome,) New York, during Burgoyne's in 1777. Paul Jones appears to have first raised this flag at sea. The flag raised by Washington at Cambridge when he took command of the army was the English flag with thirteen red and white stripes added. In the flag adopted by congress the stars represent all the states, the stripes, the thirteen states.

Sold by all druggists in all parts of the world. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

A June Wedding.

A very pretty June wedding took place at State College Thursday at high noon. The contracting parties were Nellie O Patterson and Mr. Irvin L Foster. The ceremony took place at the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. C Patterson. The words uniting this happy couple were said by Rev. A *L*awrence Miller, the bride,s brother-in-law. The house presented a perfect fairy scene. Great bunches of roses and other June flowers were artistically arranged in the different rooms and the whole scene was perfected by the fair June day.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss May, and Miss May Beck, of Nittany as brides-maids. After the wedding breakfast Mr. and Mrs. Foster left for an extended visit in Maine, the groom's old home. Upon their return they will go to housekeeping on the "Hill" at State College, where Mr. Foster is instructor in modern languages.

Captain Harry Hall Ill.

Captain Harry Alvan Hall, of Company H Ridgway, is ill. Mrs. Hall is with him. His illness is not considered dangerous. Captain Hall is well known in Bellefonte, having been here often when U.S. district attorney, and his many friends hope he will soon be well.

In Camp at Tamps

Down here we are sweltering day and night, with the thermometer 98 in the shade. Nobody dares complain, for fear of appearing unpatriotic. Still, it will do us no harm to hear a little of the truth, for this affair is turning out just as officers of the regular army have foreseen.

Here we are thirty days from the declaration of war, and not a regiment is yet equipped with uniforms suitable for hot weather. The Cuban patriots and other cigar-makers look happy in their big Panama hats and loose linen trousers, but the United States troops sweat night and day in their cowhide boots, thick flannel shirts and winter trousers. In addition to this they wear a tunic at inspections—a piece of torture.

Who is responsible for this? No one knows.

The poor men have to sleep on the ground in the heavy, dirty sand. Their sweaty clothing picks it up and their food is full of it. Every whiff of hot air blows fine dust about, and every horse, cart, or even passing person adds discomfort to men already miserable. How little it would cost to have the camp sprinkled once or twice a day? Or at least the government might have provided rough boards from which the men could have sawed themselves a few feet of flooring.

We are in the habit of pitying the soldier of Europe as hardly treated. For downright neglect I have seen nothing to beat the way the American is treated by Uncle Sam.

In this hot climate we yearn for fresh fruit and vegetables, for anything that will quench thirst and at the same time cool the blood. Meat and all heating things we try to avoid by a wise instinct. The troops, however, are supplied with only that which is most unseasonable—greasy pork and beans of that brown quality that makes one ready to spend the rest of the day in a watermelon patch. I found officers with nothing but these rations, because the commissary had nothing else, and they could not afford to send for other things from the town. Is it a wonder that the men develop abnormal thirst, and rush off to satisfy this craving as best they can—some with plain water, some with milk-shakes, some with beer, some with other compounds? The result is that already the camp doctors are busy every morning with men and officers suffering from varying degrees of dysentery. We hush this up as well as we can, but to do so altogether is impossible. Who is responsible? No one can tell.

The war is thirty days in swing. It took less time than that for *G*ermany to put half a million well-trained men on the French frontier in 1870. Today we look in vain for a single regiment fit to take the field. We hear much in the political organs of throwing fifty thousand men over into Cuba and taking Havana, yet here we are drilling recruits and waiting for regiments to fill up. The strength of a regiment is nominally twelve hundred men. As a matter of fact, the average number is less than six hundred. Who is responsible? Every day raw recruits are dumped down here out of an incoming train, and they are taken out into the deep sand, and made to move their legs up and down until exhausted nature cries out for rest. Drill sergeants and recruits soon lose their taste for calisthenics in the roasting pine barrens of Tampa. The ordinary man asks why were not these recruits licked into shape up in the cool north, and sent down properly clothed and armed. Who is responsible? If the invasion should take place tomorrow, half the men would be in civilian dress, raw recruits who had probably never before had a gun in their hands.

Tampa is a seaport town, and therefore one might have expected that our superheated troops would have been so located as to enjoy a salt water bath at least once a day *O*ne or two regiments near Fort Tampa have managed to locate near the beach, but the bulk of the troops are so far from the water that the journey to and fro robs them of any benefit they might otherwise derive from a swim. In parenthesis, let me explain that the fine dusty sand of Tampa is impregnated with charcoal dust, owing, no doubt, to the pine barrens of this neighborhood having been burned over. Thus our men in camp perspire streaks of black down their faces and necks The government provides them no bath houses, not even a trough at which they may take baths by instalments. So far the weather has been oppressively hot and dry. It will be a miracle if disease does not break out when the rain begins.

These matters are obvious even to the laymen. They are not necessitated by the present state of war While Uncle Sam's boys are parching for fresh food and vegetables, train loads are leaving Florida filled with succulent fruit for northern markets.

The American working man, while he works shorter hours, works harder than the working man of any other nation. He works not only with his hands but with his head. He is an intelligent worker and produces more in a given length of time than the worker of any other nation. He not only exhausts himself physically, but mentally; not only muscularly, but nervously.

The consequence is that while he is better fed and better housed, he is not, as a rule, as healthy a man as his brother working-man of European countries. Moreover, like all Americans, the American working-man is prone to disregard his health and frequently even takes pride in abusing it. It rests with American wives to protect their husbands in this respect. A little watchfulness on the part of the wife will frequently save her husband from a long spell of ill-health and possibly from some fatal illness. When a man feels "out of sorts" it is because his digestion is disordered or his liver is torpid. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will promptly correct these disorders. It is the great blood-maker and flesh-builder. It restores the appetite, makes digestion perfect and the liver active. It purifies the blood and tones the nerves. It cures 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption, bronchitis, asthma, weak lungs, lingering cough, spitting of blood and disease of the throat and nasal cavities. Thousands have told the story of its wonderful merits in letters to Dr. Pierce. It may be had at any medicine dealer's.

"Your 'Golden Medical Discovery' cured me of a severe case of poisoning of the blood," writes Mrs. Selia Ricca, of Coast, Santa Cruz Co., Cal. "That was two years ago, and I have not had a boil or sore of any kind since."

It is as easy to be well as ill—and much more comfortable. Constipation is the cause of many forms of illness. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, two a mild cathartic. Dealers in medicines sell them.

As To Net Fishing.

According to an opinion by Deputy Attorney General Reeder, fishing with fyke nets is unlawful in the streams in the commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The opinion was given to W. E. Meehan, assistant secretary of the Pennsylvania fish commission, and decides as follows: First, it is unlawful to use any fyke or net or nets of any kind or device made of cotton or flax twine or wire netting similar to a fyke net, for the purpose of catching fish in any of the waters of this commonwealth. Second, suckers, eels and catfish may be caught in open seasons in streams other than private trout streams, but the same can not be done by means of any seine, fyke net or device as above described similar to fyke nets.

Colonel Reeder says, in the same opinion, that there is no method of preventing persons or corporations from emptying chemicals from their factories into streams for the simple reason that fish are thereby destroyed. "Such an act may be restrained," he adds, "where the act of the person or corporation becomes a public nuisance and a menace to the health of the people, but in that event it must be evidence as a nuisance.

An opinion was also given that counties must pay $500 toward the wardens' expenses.

Flag Raising.

The citizens of Pleasant Gap have undertaken a scheme that promises to attract attention. A popular subscription is being taken to buy a monster flag which will be suspended from a steel cable between the mountain peaks at the gap. The day has not been set when the flag will be formally unfurled. It is their expectation to have Gov. Hastings, Ex-governor Beaver and other prominent speakers at this event.

Large posters will be issued later giving a complete account of what the program will be on this occasion. When the people in that community undertake anything they usually do it well.

LEGALLY HANGED.

Walter E. Goodwin Pays the Penalty for Murdering His Wife.

WELLSBORO, Pa. June 10.—Walter E. Goodwin was hanged in this borough yesterday afternoon at 12.30 for the murder of his wife, Effie Goodwin. Goodwin passed the few hours preceding his execution in religious service with his spiritual adviser, Rev. J C Warren. At 12 o'clock the sheriff and jury and those who held tickets went from the sheriff's office in the court house to the condemned man's cell. Goodwin walked to the scaffold with a firm step, betraying no signs of nervousness and was the coolest person present. His two brothers who were present were very nervous and one was trembling like a leaf. The sheriff asked Goodwin if he had anything to say and he said:

"Gentlemen, it is the power of Christ that holds my nerve at this time; nothing else would do it. I can see the light of Christ—I can feel him at this moment. I hope to see you all in that land where we will part no more."

"Have you any more to say," asked Sheriff Johnson.

"No, I think not,' answered Goodwin.

The black cap was than placed over his face.

"Good bye, Walter," said the sheriff.

"Good bye," murmered the prisoner, and at exactly 12.30 the lever was pulled, the bolts clicked, the trap opened and Walter E Goodwin was launched into eternity. The drop was about six feet and death was almost instantaneous. Only a few twitches of the muscles and then al was over. The body was cut down in twenty minutes and placed in a cloth casket and taken in charge by the relatives.

The crime for which Walter E Goodwin was hanged was committed on the night of September 2, and his victim, Mrs. Effie Goodwin, was found the afternoon of the 3d on a back street in Mansfield, Pa. with four bullet holes in her head. Walter Goodwin was arrested for the crime, and later a 16 year old girl, Gertrude Taylor, was placed under arrest as an accessory. The girl confessed having accompanied Walter on the night of the murder, but turned state's evidence and was the principal witness against Goodwin at the trial. He was sentenced October 11 last, to be hanged March 31, but two stays were granted him, one to May 31 and the other to this date

A foul breath is one of the greatest afflictions that a man or woman can have. An affliction not only to themselves, but to those with whom they come in contact. A foul breath is a great discourager of affection. It would probably be more so if people only realized just what bad breath means. Bad breath is one of the symptoms of constipation. Some of the other symptoms are sour stomach, loss of appetite, sick and bilious headache, dizziness, heartburn and distress after eating. These things mean indigestion. They lead to dyspepsia and worse things. They all start with constipation, and constipation is inexcusable because it can be cured—cured easily, quickly and permanently by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They give to nature just the little help that she needs. There is no case of biliousness, constipation, indigestion, "heartburn," or any of the rest of the nightmare breeding brood, that these little "Pellets" will not cure.

Send 21 cents in one-cent stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association Buffalo, N. Y., and receive Dr. Pierce's, 1008 page "Common Sense Medical Adviser," profusely illustrated.

There Will Be a Heavy Demand.

NEW YORK, June 10.—Indications point to a heavy demand for the new 3 per cent war bonds which the government is soon to issue at par. The local banks and bankers are evincing a lively interest in the issue and in several cases are offering to place subscriptions for their customers without charge. Little doubt is expressed that the bonds will bring at least 104 soon after their distribution.

There is a large demand from European bankers and the whole issue could readily be placed there if this government so desired. As it is there is little liklihood that many of the bonds will go abroad except at an advance over their par value.

Democratic Editors Met.

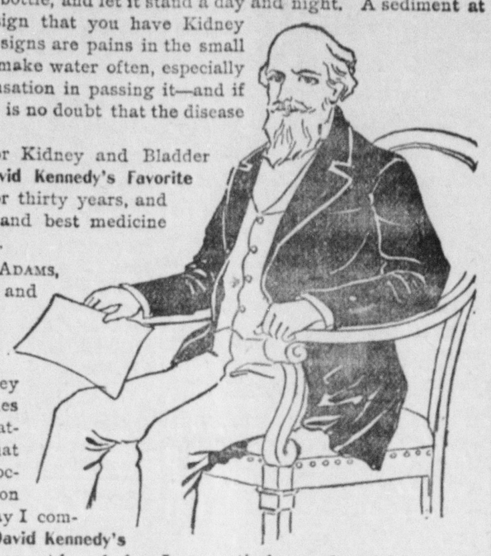
HARRISBURG, June 9.—A conference of the editors of the leading democratic newspapers in the state was held last night at democratic headquarters in this city, at which there was organized the Pennsylvania Democratic Press association, the object of which is "to strengthen the democracy and the formation of mutual interests and cultivation of friendly relations among the members." Jere Zeamer, of Carlisle, was chosen president J. Irvin Steele, of Ashland, and W. Hayes Grier, of Columbia, vice presidents; Matt Savage, of Clearfield, secretary and treasurer; D. A Orr, Harrisburg; J. W. Maloy, Lansford, W. P. Hassings, Milton, and George E. Elwell, Bloomsburg, executive committee. The following resolution was adopted:

"That this association, without surrendering any convictions upon national questions, recognize the paramount issue in the coming state campaign to be the salvation of the state and its redemption from republican misrule and corruption."

The association will hold its next meeting at Altoona, June 28.

How to Prolong Life

No man or woman can hope to live long if the Kidneys, Bladder, or Urinary Organs are diseased. Disorders of that kind should never be neglected. Don't delay in finding out your condition. You can tell as well as a physician. Put some urine in a glass or bottle, and let it stand a day and night. A sediment at the bottom is a sure sign that you have Kidney disease. Other certain signs are pains in the small of the back—a desire to make water often, especially at night—a scalding sensation in passing it—and if urine stains linen there is no doubt that the disease is present.



There is a cure for Kidney and Bladder Diseases. It is Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. It has been for thirty years, and is today, the greatest and best medicine known for these troubles.

Mr. WILLIAM W. ADAMS, cor. Jefferson Avenue and Clifton Street, Rochester, N. Y., says:—

"Three years ago I was taken with Kidney disease very badly; at times I was completely prostrated; in fact, was so bad that a day was set for the doctors to perform an operation upon me. Upon that day I commenced the use of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, and it was not long before I was entirely cured, and I have had no return of the trouble since. My weight has increased, and I never was so well as I am now. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy saved my life."

Favorite Remedy acts directly upon the Kidneys, Liver and Blood. In cases of Nervousness, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Ulcers, Old Sores, Blood Poisoning, Bright's Disease and Female Troubles it has made cures after all other treatments failed. It is sold for $1.00 a bottle at drug stores. A teaspoonful is a dose.

Sample Bottle Free! Send your full postoffice address to the DR. DAVID KENNEDY CORPORATION, Rondout, N. Y., and mention this paper, and a sample bottle of Favorite Remedy will be sent free. Every sufferer can depend upon the genuineness of this offer, and should send at once.

The Cabinet Council Discussed the Philippines.

THEY ARE NOT SEEKING AFTER PEACE

Premier Sagasta Declares His Government Will Not Take the Initiative
Cadiz Squadron to Sail Once More.

UNCLE SAM IS BRANCHING OUT

MADRID, June 9.—The cabinet council was occupied with a long discussion as to the military situation in the Philippines. General Correa, minister of war, denied that Captain General Augusti's position was desperate and Senor Sagasta added that Manila had means of defense until the arrival of reinforcements.

The council then adopted important measures, which are kept secret, Captain Aunon, minister of marine, being authorized to take whatever measures he considers necessary with reference to the Philippines, and Senor Puigcerver, minister of finance being authorized to come to an agreement with the leaders of the majority in the chamber of the passage of the budget.

Senor Sagasta declared that the government had "no intention of taking the initiative in negotiations for peace." He said he was not aware that any power was disposed to do so.

The council accepted the resignation of Lieutenant General Adaban, commander of the First army corps, and captain general of Madrid, and appointed Lieutenant General J. C. Hinchilla, commander of the Second army corps and former minister of war, to succeed him.

The government has received no official dispatches as to a new bombardment of Santiago.

At the termination of the cabinet council, General Correa, proceeded to the palace where he had an half hour's conference with the queen regent.

Captain Aunon, minister of marine, started for Cadiz at 10 o'clock this evening. All the ministers accompanied him to the railway station. He will remain at Cadiz until Admiral Camara's squadron is ready to sail, General Correa in the meantime fulfilling his duties at the ministry of marine. The fifteen vessels forming the squadron will start together under sealed orders which will only be opened when the squadron is well out to sea. It is understood that the forces will then be divided.

Ships May Be Impressed.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Assistant Secretary of War Meiklejohn is rapidly shaping the question of ships for transportation of troops to the Philippines. It was definitely decided tonight that the steamship Centennial will not be of the fleet, as she has been found unseaworthy.

Acting on the reports of the vessel's condition. Secretary Meiklejohn directed that she be thoroughly examined, and tonight received a telegram from General Merritt stating that Lieutenant Lopez and Naval Constructor Snow had examined the vessel and report that she is not now in a seaworthy condition and could be permitted to sail. Acting upon this information Secretary Meiklejohn today telegraphed Peter Larson, of Seattle, owner of the vessel, that her charter for the Government has been canceled.

It is probable that the War Department will impress into Government service the steamships Senator, City of Pueblo and Queen, of the Pacific Coastwise Steamship Company. Secretary Meiklejohn today telegraphed General Merritt to have these vessels inspected with a view to their use as troop ships, and if found suitable to impress them into service,

In addition to these vessels the War Department has in view several ships of the Northern Pacific Steamship Company. This is a British corporation and the vessels are the Arizona, Victoria, Tacoma, Columbia and Olympia. Secretary Meiklejohn this evening received a telegram from the company stating that these vessels would be chartered to the Government on condition of receiving American registry at practically the prices the War Department had proposed to them.

Sudden Death of a Judge.

CHICAGO, June 9.—Judge Julius F. Grinnell dropped dead yesterday at the Illinois Trust and Savings bank. Judge Grinnell was famous for the record he made as a fearless public servant, particularly as state's attorney during the prosecution of the Haymarket anarchists.

THREE RECENT DEATHS.

Which Have Occured In this Vicinity.

Three deaths have shocked our community within the past few days. The first we would record is that of James Fanning, a respected citizen of Centre county, who died Wednesday June 8, at ten o'clock at his home at Shiloh church. His death was due to a stroke of paralysis. He was in his 48th year, a widower with four children. The childreus names are Foster, Walter D. John M. and Maria L. His wife whose maiden name was Maggie Morgan preceeded him to the grave four years ago. He had one sister married to Frank Morgan of Lock Haven. His remains were brought to this place and taken to the home of Daniel Snyder on North Allegheny street. The funeral took place Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock Interment in Union cemetery. The deceased was for several years chief of police of Bellefonte.

Mrs. Elizabeth Lesh, of Zion, widow of the late Thomas Lesh, died Tuesday June 7th, at nine o'clock. She suffered from a complication of diseases and her death had been expected for some time. She was seventy-nine years of age. She leaves no children. The funeral took place at Zion, Friday morning at 10 o'clock.

The little daughter of Henry Hoy, of near Bellefonte, died Thursday morning at 4 o'clock, aged three years. Death was due to cholera-infantum. The funeral took place Friday afternoon from Reformed church. Interment in Union Cemetery.

Five Men Rescued.

BALTIMORE, June 9.—Five men were picked up from off a drifting United States water tender off Hatteras Monday and were landed in this city yesterday by the steamer William Lawrence. The tender in charge of Frank O'Neil and four seamen, was being towed from Norfolk to Key West by the steamship Leonidas. She broke loose during a gale Sunday. The men had plenty of food on board the tender and suffered no hardship. They left Monday for Norfolk.

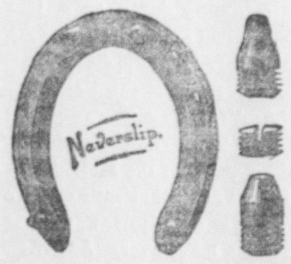
Don't Let Your Horse Slip.

Every man in the town slips more or less daily as he walks about. That is because his shoes are smooth. A horse slips for the same reason. Especially when he is pulling loads. It happens in dry weather in summer. And in winter it is vastly worse. The only way to prevent or mitigate slipping is to keep the calks constantly sharp, an expensive and troublesome thing. The shoes must all come off and be re-set, and in icy weather everybody wants that job done at the same time. Hence loss of time of man and beast, irritation over the delay, maybe a bad job and the usual bill to pay.



Horse owners are learning to avoid this by using the Neverslip Shoe and Calk. The shoe is as good as a shoe can be made and the calks are screwed into it with a wrench made for the purpose. You can do it yourself and remove them when worn. The whole set can be changed in twenty minutes while the horse stands in the stable. They are as firm and solid as the old style calk. Thus your horse is sharp shod quickly on an icy morning without removing his shoes. Kept well calked the Neverslip Shoe will last an entire winter on horses worked daily, when two or three sets of common shoes would be worn out, to say nothing of sharpening and re-setting.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 13, 1898.

Knowing that the very persons who are having the most to say about the delay in getting Gen. Shafter's army to Santiago would have led the harsh criticism had the army met with any mishap on account of being moved before everything was ready, and that the delay has been necessary and unavoidable, President McKinley is taking matters as coolly as the broiling spell of weather now upon Washington will allow him. He knows that no time has been wasted, and that none will be; that Shafter's army is out for business, and that results are going to follow its landing in Cuba. The administration is not to blame because newspaper men who were not informed of the real causes of delay printed their guesses, that the troops were held back because of rumors of the presence of an alleged new and dangerous Spanish fleet in Cuban waters, etc., as facts; censorship of news relating to important movements would be useless if the government contradicted all the rumors started. Admiral Sampson has landed a force of marines in Cuba, at Guantanamo harbor, which will be held as a base of naval supplies.

Generals Coppinger and Lee, who are to command the army that is going to Porto Rico, have been sent orders to get their command into condition for embarking at the earliest possible moment, which is taken to mean that the movement upon Porto Rico is not to be postponed until the movement against Santiago is successful, but is to go ahead independently as soon as ready. Secretary Alger says that in ten days time every man in the army will be fully equipped for war.

The Navy Department has published Admiral Sampson's official report of Lieut, Hobson's daring feat—the sinking of the Merrimac—and it is just as enthusiastic as were the newspaper descriptions and is calculated to make every American proud to be a citizen of the country that produces such men.

Senator Butler, of N. C., chairman of the populist National Committee, formally read Senator Kyle out of the populist party because he voted for the war revenue bill. The reading out process did not appear to worry Senator Kyle, who started that he was responsible to his conscience and his constituents, and not to Butler, for his official actions. Mr. Kyle disposed of some statements concerning him made by Senator Pettigrew by denouncing them as "intentional and malicious falsehoods."

The House is now engaged in debating the Hawaiian annexation resolution under an agreement to vote upon it Wednesday afternoon. Its adoption by more than two-thirds vote is certain. Speaker Reed's course since this matter has been under discussion has been greatly misrepresented. He is personally opposed to annexation, but his prompt decision when a point of order was raised against Gen. Grosvenor's motion "to proceed to public business"—made in the House for the first time in fifteen years—in favor of Gen. Grosvenor, knowing that the motion was made to get the annexation resolution before the House, was proof enough of the falsity of the stories about his resorting to all sorts of parliamentary tactics to prevent the House getting an opportunity to vote on annexation. Two weeks ago Speaker Reed stated his position to Chairman Hitt and other members of the committee on Foreign Affairs when they went to him for a special rule from the Committee on Rules. He said to them. 'My advice personally is to postpone consideration of this question until next session. I frequently think I am wiser than I am. You gentlemen must take the consequences." The only trouble with the Speaker in this case has been that his judgment is against that of 95 per cent of the republican party and probably a majority of all other parties.

There is no buncomb about President McKinley's good will towards the ex-Confederates, or he never would have nominated T. L. Rosser, of Va., to be a brigadier general. Rosser got a lot of newspaper notoriety several years ago by making a crack-brained speech announcing himself to be an unreconstructed rebel etc. President McKinley only remembered that he was a gallant soldier, now seeking to fight for the country he once mistakenly fought to destroy. It is things like that which have caused it to be remarked more than once that "McKinley is in many respects as great as Lincoln."

President McKinley is well pleased with the war-revenue bill, now a law as a whole. He would have preferred that the amount of bonds authorized should have remained at $500,000,000, as in the original House bill instead of $400,000,000 as agreed to, by the conference. He does not intend to issue more than shall be necessary to meet war expenses. That is why the first issue is limited to $200,000,000, and he hopes that all of these will be taken by the people in amounts of $1,000 and less.

Spain Denies the Landing in Cuba.

MADRID, June 14.—An extremely bad impression is current as to the outcome of events. Business men are inclined to the belief that the war will be short, probably only lasting another month. Millitary men hold the opposite view, considering that Spain can put much reliance on the elements. While the Americans landing in Cuba is officially denied, the authorities declare that even if it were true it would be unimportant.

SPEAK OUT.

The Searchlight of Publicity is Pleasing to Bellefonte People.

Publicity is what the people want.
Let the people speak on the subject.
There has been too much claim—too little proof.
Claims made by strangers are not proof.
Claims endorsed by strangers are not proof.
There is only one kind of proof for a Bellefonte citizen.
The experience of people we know.
When friends and neighbors endorse.
Make public statement of their case.
There can be no question about such evidence,
This is the proof we have.
Which backs every box of Doan's Kidney Pills.
No other kidney pills, no other kidney remedy
Can produce such proof.
Here is one case of the many we have:

Mr, Walter Whippo, of Water street, leading horse-shoer of Bellefonte, says: "I have a good word to say for Doan's Kidney Pills. Last Spring, 1897, I was miserable with backache and a lameness across my loins. I know that it was from my kidneys, for I had suffered from it prior to that. Sometimes I could hardly straighten up after bending forward which greatly interfered with my work. I learned about Doan's Kidney Pills and procured them at F. Potts Green's drug store, and began using them. I had taken other medicines and worn plasters but I never had anything act so promptly as Doan's Kidney Pills. I have been quite free from the whole trouble ever since."

who appeared off the camp on the edge of a small island, about a mile to the northeast. It was promptly returned by thirteen rifles and a three-inch field gun, and in a short time all signs of the enemy had disappeared. Col. Huntington then sent to the landing for a second three-inch gun, which was dragged up the hill and placed in position at the summit. The skirmish lines thrown around the camp kept up a popping all the morning, but with not much result to show for it. Meanwhile the Marblehead left the harbor and threw a few shells into the woods.

To the great delight of marines in camp, Lieuts. Neville and Shaw, with thirty men of Co. D, returned in good shape, but much exhausted by eighteen hours of picket duty. One man Sergt. Smith of Co. K, had been shot through the abdomen and instantly killed. For most of the day and night Lieuts. Neville and Shaw had been surrounded by a much superior force, but men and officers behaved splendidly, and, although the firing of the Spaniards was constant and heavy, Lieut. Neville's detachment held its own, inflicting much more damage than it sustained. At least five Spaniards are known to have been killed and as Lieut. Neville's men kept up a steady fire throughout the night and the enemy was not at a great distance, it is believed that the Spanish casualties were heavy.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 14.—The first army of invasion to Cuba is now well on its way, thirty-two transport steamships bearing over 15,000 officers and men, convoyed by battleships, cruisers, gunboats and auxiliary crafts, sixteen in number, having actually sailed from Key West at daybreak Tuesday morning. Anthoritative statement to this effect was made at the war department Monday, setting at rest all reports that the expedition was on its way or had landed last week.

That Spanish Cadiz fleet is almost as much of a mystery to the naval officers as was Admiral Cevera's flying squadron during the two weeks immediately preceding its inglorious bottling up at Santiago. Today a report came that the squadron was unfit for sea. That would have been credited except that the department has had information as late as Saturday to the effect that the squadron was already at sea.

TAMPA, Florida, June 14.—Coppinger is in command of the troops left at Tampa, and it is believed will command the next expedition to sail. The destination of this second expedition will be Porto Rico. General Fitzhugh Lee's corps is not likely to go to Porto Rico, but will be sent to Cuba when the time comes to strike Havana.

OFF GUANTANAMO, Sunday, June 12.—Via Mole St. Nicholas, Hayti, June 12.—Lieut-Col. R. W. Huntington's battalion of marines, which landed from the transport Panther on Friday and encamped on the hill guarding the abandoned cable station at the entrance to the outer harbor of Guantanamo, has been engaged in beating off a bush attack by Spanish guerrillas and regulars since 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The fighting was almost continuous for thirteen hours, until 6 o'clock this morning, when reinforcements were landed from the Marblehead.

Four of our men were killed and one wounded. The advance pickets under Lieuts. Neville and Shaw are unaccounted for.

Among the killed is Assistant Surgeon John Blair Gibbs, son of Maj. Gibbs of the regular army, who fell in the Custer massacre. His home was at Richmond, Va., but he has been practicing in New York and entered the service since the war begun. He was a very popular officer. The others are Sergt. Charles H Smith, of Smallwood. Private William Dunphy of Gloucester, Mass., and Private James McColgan of Stockeham, Mass. Corporal Glass was accidently wounded in the head.

The Spanish loss is unknown, but it was probably considerable. The splashes of blood found at daylight at the positions the Spaniards occupied indicate fatalities, but their comrades carried off the killed and wounded.

The engagemeut began with desultory firing at the pickets, a thousand yards inland from the camp. Capt. Spicer's company was doing guard duty and was driven in, finally rallying on the camp and repulsing the enemy at 5 o'cloek. The bodies of Privates McColgan and Dunphy were found, both shot in the head. The large cavities caused by the bullets, which inside a range of 500 yards have a rotary motion, indicate that the victims were killed at close range.

The bodies were stripped of shoes, hats and cartridge belts and horribly mutilated with machetes.

When they were brought in the whole battalion formed three sides of a hollow square about the camp on the hilltop. Below in the bay were the warships at anchor. Inland from the hill camp is a deep ravine and beyond this are high hills. The adjacent country is heavy with a thick growth.

The sky was blanketed with clouds and when the sun set a gale was blowing seaward. Night fell, thick and impenetrable The Spanish squads concealed in the chapparel cover had the advantage, the Americans on the ridge furnishing fine targets against the sky and the white tents. The Spaniards fought from cover until midnight, discoverable only by flashes, at which the marines fired volleys. The repeaters sounded like crackers in a barrel,

CAPE HAYTIEN, Hayti, June 12,—10:30 p. m.—Eight thousand Americans, according to a private dispatch from Port au Prince, have landed very near Santiago de Cuba.

The United States auxiliary cruiser St. Louis arrived at Mole, St. Nicholas, today.

PORT AU PRINCE, Hayti, June 12,—8 p. m.—The latest advices received from Port de Paix say that the British steamer Ravensdale, from Guantanomo, whence the American warships Oregon and Marblehead compelled her to put out, reports that the Americans were evidently planning a debarkation of troops on the shore of Guantanamo bay.

Scrofulous Humor

Blood in Terrible Condition and All Run Down in Health—Has Become Strong and Healthy.

"I was all run down, blood in terrible condition and I was troubled with a severe scrofulous humor which caused me great suffering. I took medicine for a long time, but received no permanent benefit. At this time I was working in a general store, and I thought I would look over the medicines and see if I could find something that would hit my case. I read an advertisement of Hood's Sarsaparilla and concluded to try it. The first bottle helped me wonderfully and I continued its use until I had taken nine bottles. By this time I felt like a new man, and since then have not been sick a day. I am now strong and healthy and I have such confidence in Hood's Sarsaparilla that I recommend it as the best medicine on earth." JOHN J. LITTLE, Munnsville, N. Y.

He rose to depart as the clock sounded eight,
And, getting his hat and cane,
His wife sweetly murmered: "Now don't stay out late,

With that somewhat startling injunction in view,
He was back home at ten with his pet,
For should he stay out later he very well knew
What a great blowing up he would get.

BLAZING OIL!

A Conflagration of Big Proportions Near Philadelphia.

BROKE OUT LAST EVENING

Started in the Extensive Plant of the Philadelphia Oil Refinery at Point Breeze —Burning Oil Floated Out on the Water.

TWO OCEAN STEAMERS CONSUMED

PHILADELPHIA, June 14.—Fire broke out at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening at the extensive plant of the Philadelphia Oil Refining company at Point Breeze, on the Schuylkill river, in the extreme southwestern section of the city. Five alarms have been sent out, calling to the scene twenty-two companies of the fire department. Several vessels were tied up at the wharves taking on cargoes of oil. Efforts were at once begun to get these vessels out into the stream and away from danger from the burning oil, which is running in blazing streams all over the place and into the river.

At 10 o'clock the fire at the Philadelphia Refining company's plant was burning furiously and three vessels in the river were on fire. Hundreds of men were endeavoring to stop the progress of the burning oil by building sand embankments, water having no effect on the flames. The water is extending toward the Point Breeze Gas works, one of the city plants now under lease to the United Gas Improvement company.

At 11 o'clock the fire was under control and the destruction was confined to the refining company's property, excepting that two oil carrying steamers were destroyed and a third steamer badly damaged. The names of the steamers have not yet been learned. The flames did not reach the gas works or other nearby property, which it was feared earlier in the night could not be saved.

Within the dock buildings were 3,000 packages of paraffine, valued at about $38,000, and 200,000 cases of crude oil, valued at $200,000, and 1,3000 barrels of lubricating oil. The company carried its own insurance. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Adams Express at Reading.

In order to attain distinction and become reputably conspicuous, yet at the same time without any fulsomeness, the Adams Express managements appears to be determined. The record it made at Camp Hastings, Mt. Gretna, Pa., will ever remain a happy reminiscence to those of the officers and privates who enjoyed its services in times of sore discomfort. Its arduous and faithful discharge of duty during the Civil War shall never be forgotten. A trait its officers appear to most sedulously strive to inculcate in the hearts and actions of its people is to do a thing right or not to do it at all. The display it will make at Reading, Pa., seals this as conclusive

Without any ostentation, with the same freedom from parade that characterizes the movement of its numerous special trains over the Pennsylvania Railroad, through the manipulation of the General Manager, and General Superintendent of Transportation of that system, it has arranged to make an exhibit at Reading on Thursday that will doubtless surprise the good people of Berks and other counties who witness the procession.

Reading, indeed, is to be honored by the appearance in line of one of the Company's mamoth vans, the capacity of which is almost equal to a vehicle whose dimensions are; length 15 feet; height 6 feet 9 inches, width 5 feet 8 inches; height from ground up 10 feet and 9 inches; weighing 4800 pounds. This van will be drawn by four fine bay horses equipped with beautiful harness specially sent from New York, and will be followed by four horse double, and other single, wagons.

When one considers that the express business was inaugurated by this concern in 1840 through the medium of a hand satchel, followed by the introduction of a wheel-barrow, until it has reached its present costly and extensive equipment, it would appear that good management prevailed during its entirety.

The great van referred to was sent to Reading by special movement of the Pennsylvania Railroad last Monday night, and is already a conspicuous feature of that thronged city. It is needless to say that these vehicles are not kept in stock because of its appearance there, although it is understood, by those who know, that the Adams Express Company simply wanted to testify its sincere appreciation of the good fellowship of the people of Reading by this unusual display upon its part and did so cheerfully.

Thousands For Education.

HAZLETON, June 14.—The will of the late A. S. Van Wickle, probated Monday, makes a number of charitable bequests, among them being Princeton College, $45,000; Brown University, $45,000, and Lafayette College, $30,000.

The Milnesville and Coleraine Collieries are to be operated under the present plan under the direction of the trustees. His wife and I. P. Pardee are named as executors and trustees of the estate.

A RICH man in Springfield, Ohio, who was so eager to serve his country that he enlisted as a private, finds himself now a member of a regiment, the Fifth, commanded by Colonel Charles Anthony, who was formerly his own coachman. Two privates in another Ohio regiment were formerly, one a colonel on Governor McKinley's staff, and the latter a son of a major general in the regular army. War like politics, sometime makes strange bedfellows.

Thousands suffer from Catarrh or cold in head and have never tried the popular remedy. There is no longer any excuse, as a 10 cent trial size of Ely's Cream Balm can be had of your druggist or we mail it for 10 cents. Full size 50 cents:

A friend advised me to try Ely's Cream Balm and after using it six weeks I believe myself cured of catarrh. It is most a valuable remedy.—Joseph Stewart, 624 Grand Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Besides nearly all the democratic nominees of the late convention being from the North Ward, of this city, nearly all the officers of the convention was from the same ward.

A FORMER CENTER COUNTY LADY DEAD.

Monday's Altoona Tribune contains the following account of the death of a former resident of this county.

On Saturday morning at twenty minutes of 11 o'clock Mrs. Polly Ann McFalls, widow of B F McFalls, late of Williamsburg, died at the late residence of her son Frank, 608 Second street. The cause of death was stomach trouble from which she had suffered for some time. She had, however, only been confined to her bed one day. The deceased was born July 23, 1831 near Boalsburg, Centre County. She was twice married. Her first husband was Isaac Sparr, of Centre county, who died April 1, 1965. She was married again Mar. 5, 1878, to B F McFalls, of Williamsburg, at which place they resided several years. Mr. McFalls died in November, 1885, since which time she has made her home with her son Frank in this city. She is survived by four children—three sons and one daughter. Two sons and the daughter are children of the first marriage. They are; Mrs. J D Stewart, of South Forks; B E Sparr, of Lock Haven; and Frank, of Altoona. The other son Samuel McFalls of this city. Mrs. McFalls was a constant member of the Eighth Avenue Methodist Episcopal church and was a kind and loving wife and mother. Her funeral took place at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon. The service was held at the house and in the absence of her pastor, Rev. C H Mosser, it was conducted by Rev. H M Heilman, of Bethany Lutheran church. Interment in Greenwood cemetery.

A leading democrat in excusing the bungling work of the late convention said, that the convention was without a leader, as the leader of his party was absent in the Western Penitentiary and that if James Cornelly had been, here the convention would have done differently.

BRYAN ON WAR.

No Universal Peace Till Justice is Enthroned.

THE DUTY OF THE CITIZEN.

Contest for the Sake of Humanity, says Nebraska's Colonel, must Not Be Permitted to Degenerate Into A War of Conquest—Words of solemn Warning.

ONE PIT FALL TO BE AVOIDED.

OMAHA, NEB., June 15.—The Nebraska building at the exposition was dedicated with appropriate ceremony, amid the plaudits of thousands of the state's citizens. Gov. Holcomb and his staff took part in the exercises, along with many of the state's most distinguished residents. Among the speakers of the day was Col. William J. Bryan. After discussing the resources of Nebraska, he made the following reference to the war and its results:

"War is harsh; it is attended by hardship and suffering; it means a vast expenditure of men and money. We may well pray for the coming of the time, promised in Holy Writ when the spears shall be beaten into pruning hooks and the swords into plow shares; but universal peace cannot come until justice is enthroned throughout the world. Jehovah deals with nations as He deals with men, and for both decrees that the wages of sin is death. Until the right has triumphed in every land and love reigns in every heart, governments must, as a last resort, appeal to force. As long as the oppressor is deaf to the voice of reason, so long must the citizen accustom his shoulder to the musket and his hand to the saber

"Our nation exhausted diplomacy in its efforts to secure a peaceable solution of the Cuban question, and only took up arms when it was compelled to choose between war and servile acquiescence in cruelties, which would have been a disgrace to barbarism.

"History will vindicate the position taken by the United States in the war with Spain. In saying this I assume that the principles which were invoked in the inauguration of the war will be observed in its prosecution and conclusion. If a contest undertaken for the sake of humanity degenerates into a war of conquest, we shall find it difficult to meet the charge of having added hypocrisy to greed. Is our national character so weak that we cannot withstand the temptation to appropriate the first piece of land that comes within our reach?

"To inflict upon the enemy all possible harm is legitimate warfare, but shall we contemplate a scheme for the colonization of the Orient merely because our fleet won a remarkable victory in the harbor of Manila?

"Our guns destroyed a Spanish fleet, but can they destroy that self-evident truth, that governments derive their just powers—not from superior force—but from the consent of the governed?

"Shall we abandon a just resistance to European encroachment upon the western hemisphere in order to mingle in the controversies of Europe and Asia?

"Nebraska, standing midway between the oceans, will contribute her full share toward the protection of our seacoast, her sons will support the flag at home and abroad wherever the honor and the interests of the nation may require. Nebraska will hold up the hands of the government while the battle rages, and when the war clouds clear away her voice will be heard pleading for the maintenance of those ideas which inspired the founders of our government and gave the nation its proud eminence among the nations of the earth.

"If others turn to thoughts of aggrandizement and yield allegiance to those who clothe land-covetousness in the attractive garb of 'national destiny' the people of Nebraska will, if I mistake not their sentiments, plant themselves upon the disclaimer entered by congress and expect that good faith shall characterize the making of peace as it did the beginning of the war. Goldsmith calls upon statesmen:

"'To judge how wide the limits stand
Betwixt a splendid and a happy land.'

"If some dream of the splendors of a heterogeneous empire encircling the globe, we shall be content to aid in bringing enduring happiness to a homogeneous people, consecrated to the purpose of maintaining 'A government of the people, by the people and for the people.'"

A MOST NOTED EVENT

Will Soon Take Place at the Bellefonte Academy.

RE-UNION OF ITS STUDENTS

It Will Take Place on June 21st; in Honor of Prof. James P. Hughes' 30th Year as Principal of This Historic School.

INTERESTING PROGRAM PREPARED

The event of the season is rapidly approaching. We refer to the reunion of the surviving students of the Bellefonte Academy since its beginning in honor of the thirtieth year of the principalship of Rev. J. P. Hughes. The friends of the Academy have very little idea of the treat in store for them on Tuesday, June 21. In the morning the Alumni al *De*tic Club will endeavor to defeat the Academy nine at Meadowbrook Park. The game will be an exciting one as very strong players like Mac Curtin, Henry Quigley and others will be found on the Alumni team, but that is the kind of a game we want to see. In the morning it is desired that all former and present stude nts repair to the Academy and have the colors of the gold and white pinned on them, or if they don't wish to put forth such an effort it is urgently requested that they provide themselves with the Academy colors and wear them during the progress of this celebration. The principle and most interesting features of the reunion proper will take place in the afternoon and evening.

At 2 o'clock p. m. a general meeting will be held in the Presbyterian church to which the public generally is invited. The famous Stopper & Fiske orchestra of twelve pieces will render a fine concert program at this meeting, while interesting addresses on different phases of education will be delivered by Dr. Francis L. Patton, of Princeton University, and Dr. Geo. W. Atherton, of Penna. StateCollege. Two or three short but pithy addresses will also be made by prominent alumni of the Academy. Let it be understood that this is the meeting which everybody is cordially invited to attend.

At 7:30 in the evening a reception will be given on the Academy grounds so that those who have been identified with the educational interests of the Academy may meet with Presidents Atherton and Patton. A tea will be served at this time to the former students of the school by the young lady graduates.

The committee is laboring hard to make this occasion a crowning success, and we expect to see their efforts successful. Any old students who have not received invitations as yet will consider themselves cordially invited to be present. Some names may be omitted because the addresses could not be obtained. The committee regrets the possibility of one such instance.

"The Milliken Collection."

Through the liberality of Mr. James Milliken of Milroy the Lewistown Library has been enriched by more than one hundred handsomely bound volumes. This is not the first time that Mr. Milliken has shown a spirit of generosity towards the Library; some years ago he delivered a most interesting lecture—an account of his then recent visit to Europe—which, besides being of pecuniary benefit to the Library, was a real education to those who were so fortunate as to hear it and to whom it has remained a pleasant memory. This collection of books which will be known as "The Milliken Collection" will add to the catalogue in all departments. The historians are represented by Quizot, Green. McCarthy, Fiske, Boyer and Mrs. Oliphant by her three delightful histories "Florence, Venice and Rome,"Everyone who knows Miss Edwards as an Egyptologist wil be glad to have an opportunity to read "A Thousand Miles Up the Nile." It is a cause for gratitude, indeed, that we can now all have at our finger tips such books as Farrar's "Life of Christ," Nansen's "Further North," *Mc*Carthy's "Life of Gladstone," and the complete works of six of the poets, Whittier, Longfellow, Bryant, Tennyson, Browning, Emerson and Holmes in beautiful new editions. In this time of our country's history "Cuba in War Time," "Stories of the nation" and American War Ballads" will surely be read with keen interest. There will also be found three novels from the clever and much beloved Samoan exile, and a very fine edition of "Vanity Fair" illustrated by Thackery himself,

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Library a few days ago the following resolution was passed.

Resolved, That a vote of thanks be tendered Mr. Milliken in the name not only of the Lewistown Library but also of the community for his liberal gift of more than one hundred volumes, which will, as long as "The *Mi*lliken Collection" is in existence, stand a memorial to Mr. Milliken's generosity, and, at the same time, speak a gratitude which will increase in the hearts of the Lewistown people as years bring time to enjoy the riches within these volumes.—Democrat and Sentinel, Lewistown, Pa.

To the People of Pennsylvania.

The citizens of Pennsylvania are informed that the National Relief Commission is thoroughly organized and at work in its headquarters, 907 Drexel Building. Philadelphia. All persons wishing to be informed of the nature and aims of this Commission are requested to address the Secretary, M. S. French, M. D., as above,

The general objects of the Commission are to aid the Government in caring for the sick and wounded soldiers and sailors, to look after the families of the men in the service, as far as need may require, to contribute to the comfort and moral advancement of the men on shipboard and in camp by keeping them in touch with the kindly and helpful influences of home. The Commission is organized upon a national basis, and, in its work will discriminate between neither soldier nor sailor, regular nor volunteer, all men beneath the flag will be objects of solicitude and friendly aid.

Several States of the Union have already formed strong organizations of their most prominent citizens in co-operation with the National Relief Commission, but it is important to emphasize the fact that a special arrangement exists between the National Relief Commission, and the State Sanitary Commission organized by Governor Hastings of citizens in various parts of the Commonwealth, who have been commissioned under the State Seal to care for Pennsylvania's troops. This Pennsylvania Sanitary Commission has formed a co-operative union with the National Relief Commission, and the latter will act as the almoner and agent of the same to distribute to Pennsylvania citizens now under arms such relief as exigencies may require.

In view of the great number of local organizations, who have entered upon the patriotic duty of furnishing relief to the men, it is important to ask for a serious consideration of the situation. Is not this multitude of associations likely to result in confusion, in working at cross purposes in duplicating objects intended to aid soldiers and sailors, and thus wasting time, energy and money ?

The National Relief Commission feels justified in requestiug these earnest and loyal organizations to correspond with the National Relief Commission with a view to remedying this evil. It is not desired and perhaps it is not desirable to interfere in anyway with the free action of local Societies, on the contrary, the purpose of the Commission is to foster such endeavors, but some way must be found by which all such work can be systemized, and it is believed that the National Relief Commission affords the best existing agency for bringing about such systematic co-operation, and doing the work, which rests so heavily on all our hearts. in the the most efficient, economical and expeditious manner,

Uncle Sam Branching Out.

San Francisco, June 10.—The Evening Post said yesterday that the cruiser Charleston would not go to the Philippines immediately, but that her destination is the Island of Guahan, the Ladrone group, which are controlled by the Spanish and which are about 1,500 miles from Manila 3,500 from Honolulu. The chief city of Guahan is exceedingly well fortified for such a small place and affords one of the best harbors and coaling stations in the Pacific ocean. About six months ago the fortifications were strengthened by the Spanish to present a formidable resistance in case of an attack.

The Post says that the United States will seize the group and use the island of Guahan for a Pacific coaling station in addition to any others she may seize in the future. The Charleston, the Post continued, was ordered to wait at Honolulu for the first fleet of transports that left the city and to take the ships to Ladrones. It is asserted that the artillery which went on the Peking was really intended to garrison the fort at Guahan, and that after quiet is restored and the Islands are under the control of the United States, the Charleston, with the transports, will go to Manila. It is said that the Monadnock will not stay at *Ho*nolulu but will proceed to the Ladrones and there remain as a permanent guardian of the island for the United States.

BUSINESS REVIEWS!

The Tone of the Markets is One of Much Confidence.

HEAVY EXPORTS OF WHEAT

Woolen Manufacturers Buying No Wool, but the Demand for Goods Continue Because of the Present War.

A FALLING OFF IN FAILURES

New York, June 11.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly Review of Trade says today: The certainty that the Spanish Atlantic fleet is imprisoned and powerless to do harm, has helped to make the tone of the markets more confident. Every step of progress during the week which has looked toward an early termination of the struggle has been reflected in the market and in lower rates for money. All industries have felt the uplifting influence. In finances the growing anxiety to lend, even on the London exchange at low rates in place of shipments of gold to this country, begins to accumulate a standing credit in favor of the United States.

Last week Atlantic wheat exports (flour included) were 4,206,293 bushels against 1,634,602 last year and Pacific exports were 253,213 against 125,212 last year and it is close to the end of the season. Over 210,000,000 bushels of wheat has already been exported and almost 200,000,000 bushels of corn; 4,134,800 bushels during the past week against 1,787,035 last year.

Iron and steel production has declined because several establishments have stopped for repairs. Yet the weekly output June 1st, 225,398 tone against 234,163 May 1st with the unsold stocks which decreased 18,142 tons during the month, indicate a consumption weekly of 233,876 tons against 228,258 in April, so that the ablest iron journals are in error in saying that the apparent consumption does not keep pace with the production of 1,000,000 monthly. Eastern markets are much more embarrassed, as before, while the western are crowded beyond all precedent. But prices are not changing in either section and the prospect for the manufacture is as unsatisfactory as could be expected with great prospects for the west,

The woolen manufactures are buying no wool and the sales at the three chief markets during the past week were only 2,549,300 pounds against 4,878, 750 in 1892. But the demand for goods improves more in many directions than was expected, the government requirements having compelled some manufacturers to buy somewhat largely grades of wool which they have not expected to require.

Failures for the week have been 203 in the United States against 262 last year.

Deafness Cannot be Cured.

by local application. as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When the tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

ODD FELLOWS PICNIC

They Spend a Most Delightful Day at Beautiful Hecla.

HIGH STATE OFFICERS PRESENT

The Speakers Were Samuel McKeever, of Philadelphia; Esau Loomis, of West Chester; John L. Miller of Sunbury and Joseph Mackey, of Williamsport.

CLOSELY CONTESTED BICYCLE RACES

The first picnic of the season was held at beautiful Hecla Park Wednesday when the Odd Fellows from the different lodges of Centre and adjoining counties gathered there. The day was bright and clear but extremely warm which made the woods around Hecla a very desirable place to be.

The attendance while not as large as at some picnics ran into the thousands. Five car loads came up from the Mill Hall end of the road and it took ten cars to transport the crowd from this end of the line. Special excursions were run on the Bellefonte Central and Pennsylvania railroads.

There were three bands of music present during the day, namely, the Good Templar band of Lock Haven, State College band and Undine of Bellefonte. Delightful band concerts were given during the day and evening.

At 10:30 a. m., the Odd Fellows and their friends marched to the grand stand in East Park where the speech making took place J. C. *Mey*er Esq., acted as master of ceremonies and introduced the different speakers. The principal addresses were made by Samuel McKeever, of Philadelphia, Grand *M*aster of the *G*rand Lodge of Pennsylvania, and by Esau Loomis, of West Chester Deputy *G*rand Master of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania. Both are eloquent talkers and the subject discussed was the "The advantages of Odd Fellowship." Other short talks were given by John L. Miller supt., of the Odd Fellows *O*rphans Home of Central Pennsylvania located at Sunbury and Joseph Mackey, of Williamsport, *G*rand Patriarch of the Grand Encampment of Penn. The latters remarks were along the line of the advantages of the higher order or encampment branch of the order.

One of the speakers refered especially to the Rebekah branch of the order and his remarks were very interesting.

After the exercises in East Park the distinguished guests were taken to the handsome club house of the Nittany Rod and *G*un Club and entertained at dinner.

J. C. Meyer, Esq., was chairman of the general committee and deserves much praise for the success of the picnic, everything passing off pleasantly.

The amusement part of the days programme proved one of the most enjoyable features. *M*essrs J. Will Conley and Frank Naginey were at the head of this committee and no better men could be selected.

H. C. Pontius, of Bellefonte, and A. Weber of Howard, managed the financial end of the picnic in the best possible manner, thus making the affair a success both socially and financially.

An exciting feature of the day was the bicycle races under the direct management of L. C. Wetzel. There were three events, the 1 mile open, 1 mile boys race and 2 mile open. The races were conducted under a special sanction from the L. A. W. George T. Bush acted as referee and time keeper. John Keichline and Paul Fortney were judges and Coke Bell was starter. The events resulted as follows:

One mile open.—Won by Peter Gstalder, of Williamsport, Time 3:05 second Harry Reel, of Johnstown; third Harry Weaver, of Bellefonte; fourth, Tom *G*reninger, of Bellefonte. 1st Prize, watch $15.00; 2nd Prize, *G*old Ring, $7.00; 3rd Prize; Racing saddle $5.00.

Boys Race.—One mile open—Lee Larimer, Time 3:04 1-5; second Tom *G*reninger, third Enoch Hugg, fourth John Teats. 1st Prize, Bicycle suit; 2nd Prize, Coleman King lamp $5.00; 3rd Bicycle shoes, $3.00.

Two mile open—Won by Peter *G*stalder, Time 5:22 3-5; second Reel; third Weaver, 1st Prize, set gold ring value $15.00; 2nd Prize, Camera, value $8.00; 3rd Prize, Racing suit, value $6.00.

After the races and exciting game of base ball was played between the Academy and Mackeyville, a full account of which will be found in another part of paper.

A Millionaire Lunatic.

A Man Who Had His Own Way and What Became of Him.

A pathetic story is told of a young man in a western city who was eager to be rich. He toiled all day and sometimes half the night. He was an operator in grain and stocks. To relieve the terrible strain of business he drank hard and led a fast life generally. Before he was forty he was a millionaire and a lunatic.

He was a victim of that fearful form of brain disease that is fast increasing where civilization is highest. It is breakdown of the center of mind and motion in the brain. It always goes on from bad to worse until the sufferer is helpless in mind and body. No cure for this latter-day curse has been devised, It is paresis—the disease of cities, of restless lives, of active brains—the result of life at high pressure.

Because paresis invades the brain slowly, as the rising tide covers the sand, the first signs of it are commonly neglected. What is a little headache, an enfeebled will, broken sleep, failing digestion and a memory so treacherous that it can scarcely retain impressions for a day? What are vertigo, dull pain at the back of the head, and wasting of the tissues in the face until deep-drawn lines make a man of forty look like a centenarian?

These are signs of the brain degeneration that leads to paresis. There is no remedy for paresis itself. In its kindest form it puts the victim out of his wretchedness in a few months. In its worst form it drags slow death over the period of a year.

But paresis can be prevented. If Nature's warning's are heeded and she is assisted at the time she needs help. the dread paresis may never come. Cure the pounding headache, the broken sleep, the failing digestion, the vertigo and the wasting tissue, and you prevent paresis. It can be done. A little tablet, the discovery of a celebrated French physician, and which is now known in this country as Warner's Helmet Nerve Tablets, will absolutely cure all forms of nervous disorders. There is no exception to this statement; it is absolutely unqualified This tablet is the biggest little thing in medicine. It controls the nervous system and cures all nervous troubles because it equalizes the circulation of the blood, the undue pressure of which upon the nerve-centers is the beginning of all nervous maladies.

The formula for compounding these tablets was brought to the United States by Dr. H. H. Warner, the originator of Warner's Safe Cure, a man whose name is a household word in every city and hamlet in the land. Following is what the doctor says regarding this wonderful remedy:—

"The formula from which Warner's Helmet Nerve Tablets are compounded was secured by me from a celebrated French physician. Upon investigation I found the remedy had been used in Paris for many years, with the most wonderful success in the treatment of all nervous disorders which disorders are especially prevalent among the people of France. After a most comprehensive and thorough test, carried on under my personal observation, to prove its merit, I transferred the formula to the Helmet Medicine Co., and the tablets which they now offer I recommend to the American public as a mild and harmless remedy for the absolute control of the nervous system. A trial will convince the most skeptical of their great value."

Such endorsement should be sufficient to lead every sufferer from nervous troubles, no matter how slight their nature, to give this wonderful remedy a trial. Such confidence have the proprietors in its efficacy that they will willingly send to any man or woman in America a sample package for four cents in stamps, to pay cost of delivery. Address the Helmet Medicine Co., 220 Broadway, New York, at once. Do not delay. The tendency of all nervous disorders is from bad to worse The wise man acts at once, only the foolish delay. Assist Nature now when she needs your aid, and thus prevent slight disorders from becoming chronic and incurable diseases

Miss Cisneros Married.

Baltimore, June 10.—Miss Evangeline Cisneros, whose romantic escape from a Spanish prison in Havana several months ago, is recalled, was married here Thursday to Carlos F. Carbonell, who assisted in her rescue. The ceremony took place at the Hotel Rennert at noon, and the happy couple left for Washington an hour later.

WINDFALL TO THE FARMER.

Veteran Freight Conductor Tells of the Wreck of Chicken Cars.

The veteran freight conductor was talking about wrecks, damage suits and other trials and tribulations that the big railroad companies are exposed to, and the subject drifted to the woes of the farmers who must watch their fences burn up, see their stock killed, and seldom have any chance to recover damages. "There was one farmer out along our line," he said, "who got even through an accident. This man had a great many chickens, and when they wandered out on the tracks to pick up grain that had leaked from the cars, many of them were run down and killed by the fast trains. The owner kicked, complained and prayed, and once he actually brought suit against the company, but lost his case and had to pay the costs This was galling to him, but one day he had his inning, and at the same time had his chicken population increased to the extent of 1,500 fine fowls. You see we had five cars full of live poultry on the train, and as they were the new-style poultry cars each one of them contained more than 400 fine fowls. The long train was going down hill past this farmer's place, when an axle on the car just in front of the poultry gave way, and in an instant the whole train was piled up higher than the telegraph poles. You ought to have seen it rain live hens and roosters when those cars were ripped to pieces. They came down like wild ducks and flew off to the fields, some of them on wings, and others trusting to leg-power. In an instant that farm was overrun by the strange pullets and chanticleers. Many of them had been killed, but at least 1,500 of them took refuge on the farm alive and well, and were soon mixed up with the native fowls. The company officials wanted to send men on the farm to catch the escaped chickens, but the farmer came out and declared he would sue for trespass, and that if one of the hens was taken he would make the company pay dear for it.

"The officers of the road were puzzled, and consulted the general counsel, and that gentleman, after due reflection, said it would be absolutely impossible to separate the railroad chickens from the farmer's fowls, or to obtain an accurate list of the number of chickens lost, and that the safest way was to pay the owner for the entire cargo and say no more about it.

"The old farmer was happy, and declared that he was doubly in luck, as the fowls that came from the wreck were so badly scared that they would not go near the tracks, and he lost none of them in that way. He had to build a big addition to his hennery, and in recognition of the fact that it was my crew that had charge of the train that brought the windfall, he always presented us with five fine fat hens the day before Thanksgiving."

May Have Been in Disguise.

ATLANTA, Ga., June 9.—George Edward Vanderbilt, supposed to be a Spanish spy and giving his address as 251 Fourteenth street, east side. New York, was brought to Fort McPherson late last night under guard. He was arrested at Tampa on Monday as a suspicious character and being unable to give a clear account of his movements, was sent to the military prison at Atlanta. Vanderbilt's guards state that no troops had left Tampa up to the time of their departure Tuesday morning.

A FAMILY FAILING.

The struggle with Heredity.

To heredity, to the transmission of traits from sire to son, we owe most of the possibilities of growth and development. If each newly born being started out anew, without the force of heredity the level of life might be expected to be that of the bigger Indian or Bushman. Naturally bad traits descend like the good. Peculiarities of feature, eccentricities of speech and manner, birth marks, etc., are handed down just as surely as manual dexterity, physical beauty, mathematical ability, and the mental and moral qualities in general. A curious example of this descent of family traits is furnished by Mrs. Maggie Pickett, Canton, Ga., in whose family gray hair was hereditary. She writes:

"Gray hair is hereditary in our family. As long as I can recollect, my mother's hair has been gray. About twelve years ago, my hair began to show signs of turning. I resolved to try Ayer's Hair Vigor, and after using it only a few times my hair was restored to its natural color. I still use this dressing occasionally, a bottle lasting me quite a while; and though over forty years of age, my hair retains its youthful color and fullness. To all who have faded and gray hair, I would heartily recommend Dr. Ayer's Hair Vigor."—Mrs. MAGGIE PICKETT, Canton, Ga.

There is no shame in gray hair, but there may be some sadness, because it is untimely, and out of season. Gray hairs are a crown of honor to the aged, but to the young they are a stigma. There is no need to be gray in youth. Grayness comes from a deficiency of the coloring matter which gives the hair its natural tint. This coloring matter can be supplied artificially and is so supplied by Dr. J. C. Ayer's Hair Vigor. It is by supplying the lacking pigment that Dr. Ayer's Hair Vigor restores gray or faded hair to its original color. Beyond this, it makes the hair grow, gives it gloss and softness, stops it from falling, removes dandruff, and cleanses the scalp. Mrs. C. M. Ayres, Mount Airy, Ga., writes:

"About three years ago, my head became full of dandruff, which caused great annoyance; after a time the hair began falling out. The use of Dr. J. C. Ayer's Hair Vigor stopped the hair from falling out, and made the scalp clean and healthy."—Mrs. C. M. AYRES, Mount Airy, Ga.

Dr. Ayer's Hair Vigor is noted as a dressing. It is used every day by thousands whose chief claim to beauty rests on beautiful hair. Send for Dr. Ayer's Curebook, a story of cures told by the cured. Free. Address the J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

HARBOR BAIQUIRI WAS BOMBARDED!

Point Where American Troops Will Land Made A Target By American Warships.

THE SITUATION AT SANTIAGO

Frequent Landings from the Fleet with Supplies and Food for Insurgents—Gomez Moving Forward—The Spanish Strength.

THE AMERICAN NAVY'S BLOOD IS UP

CAPE HAYTIEN, Hayti, June 9, 6:10 a. m.—It is reported here that a great battle has taken place at Caimanera, in the bay of Guantanamo. At half past five yesterday morning (Wednesday) five ships of the American squadron opened a heavy bombardment of the fortifications of the town.

There was a perfect hail of bombs in the bay, striking and demolishing many houses beyond the fortifications.

On the Spanish side the artillery replied vigorously, maintaining for some time a stout resistance. The fire from the warships, however never slackened for an instant. It was regular and carefully directed, and a great majority of the shots proved effective. The Spaniards were forced to abandon their positions on the shore and retreat to the town of Caimanera proper.

It is supposed that later they fled from that position also, with the inhabitants.

June 9th.—9:15 p. m.—Even before the cables in Guantanamo bay had been injured so that they could not be worked, the operators at the Caimanera station were forced to flee by fire from the American warships.

Up to this hour there has been no direct cable communication from Santiago since Monday at midnight.

CAPE HAYTIEN, Hayti, June 9.—1:30 a. m.—The United States dispatch boat Dolphin arrived at the Mole St. Nicholas this morning and fired a salute of seventeen guns.

CAPE HAYTIEN, June 9th. 10:30 a. m.—Information has reached here that the Spanish at Santiago and Caimanera are preparing for a final desperate struggle, and are determined to resist the assaults of the Americans to the last extremity.

The commander of the district issued orders yesterday to burn Caimanera before yielding it into the hands of the Americans. The latter forced the entrance of the bay of Guantanamo, and according to the latest advices from Caimanera it was feared that the Americans would make an effort to land forces there this (Thursday) afternoon. Measures to prevent this, if possible, have been taken by the Spaniards. The American fleet was still maintaining its position.

MADRID, June 10.—News received here from the Philippine islands has caused a deep impression. The country is calm, but there is a latent intensity of dissatisfaction which is only repressed on patriotic grounds.

A long cabinet council to consider the situation, especially the recourses required for the campaign and war plans, was held yesterday.

The minister of marine, Capt. Aunon, submitted important documents to the consideration of the ministers. It is announced that he will soon go to Cadiz, ostensibly to inspect the defenses of that place, but, it is said, he "may possibly make an important decision during his stay there."

The minister of marine will also devote considerable attention to the available naval reserves.

The press generally and public opinion are outspoken on the disagreeable news from the Philippines, bitterly blaming the remissness of the present government without throwing the responsibility upon it.

Public feeling, though aroused, is displaying an ominous calmness, waiting to know the worst, but when that is known, there will be developments. It is generally believed that important decisions were taken at the cabinet council.

GIBRALTAR, June 10.—It is the general belief here that the delay in the departure of the Cadiz squadron is really owing to the necessity of arming the auxiliary cruiser Havel, recently purchased.

CAPE HAYTIEN, Hayti, June 10.—8:40 a. m.—A man who arrived here yesterday in a schooner from Turks Island, one of the Bahamas and about 110 miles north of Hayti, said it was reported there on Tuesday that Santiago de Cuba had been taken by the Americans.

Cable communication between Cape Haytien and Cuba is still interrupted.

LONDON, June 10.—The Westminister Gazette publishes a report that Manila has fallen. Whether the city is in the hands of the Americans or the insurgents the report does not intimate.

Dispatches to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Paris and Madrid says it is rumored in those cities that the soldiers of the Spanish garrison at Manila, fearing that they would be massacred by the rebels, have surrendered to the Americans.

LONDON, June 10.—Diplomatic dispatches received yesterday from Madrid, represent the condition of affairs as actually perilous for the Government and dynasty. The Spanish people for the first time understood the hopelessness of their predicament, and are bitterly incensed against their rulers.

Sagasta, it is asserted, is insisting on his resignation to make way for a military cabinet. The Queen Regent is said to be abandoned to despair. A rumor was prevalent in Madrid that she had actually fled, not having been seen for four days. But Sagasta gave his word of honor that the Queen Regent is still in the palace, though not well.

The belief is general in diplomat circles here that Spain will sue for peace within a week on the basis of the surrender of Cuba and the return of the Philippines.

HAVANA, June 11.—8:30 a. m.—Several Americans warships yesterday bombarded Baiquiri, some distance east of Aguadores and near the railway line to Santiago de Cuba.

Official advices from Santiago says that the bombardmen "caused no damage."

Baiquiri is a mining locality and some of the mines are under American control.

At the palace it is denied that there has been any bombardment of the Santiago fortifications Friday.

JAMAICA, June 11.—It is believed the navy will follow the landing of troops by forcing the passage of the narrow channel leading to the harbor of Santiago de Cuba. fishing up the sunken mines and compelling Admiral Cervera to make a stand. If the destruction of the Spanish fleet is successfully carried out it will end the last vestage of Spanish dominion in Eastern Cuba. The harbor of Guantanamo is completely under the control of the American fleet and the landing of marine at that point is expected to occur simultaneously with the landing of troops at Santiago de Cuba.

In Santiago de Cuba there are now about 20,000 Spanish soldiers, chiefly infantry; but with a fair contingent of cavalry and field artillery drawn from the surrounding country. During the day time the cavalry skirmish in the vicinity of the city, returning at night to barracks. During the last few days the activity of the Spaniards has been particularly noticeable. Oxen trains have been making their way to the batteries, detachments have been working on emplacements, and there have been other signs showing that the spaniards are preparing a desperate resistance.

The insurgents, about 5,000 strong, have taken a position on a mountain to the westward. Two thousand insurgents of this gathering are unarmed. Gen. Maximo Gomez, now about 150 miles inland, is making his way towards the coast. Admiral Sampson is actively co-operating with the insurgents. Yesterday Gen. Miniet of the insurgent forces, and his staff, went on board the New York for a long consultation.

The navel officers have been doing splendid and daring work in carrying communications to the insurgents, landing armes and making trips ashore for the purpose of gaining information. Upon the gunboats Suwanee and Vixen this work has chiefly developed.

The gunboat Suwanee has landed 300,000 rounds of small arms ammunition, 300 Springfield rifles, 100 carbines, 2,000 machetes, with equipments and provisions. These were handed over yesterday, about fifteen miles west of Santiago to some 800 insurgents, who came down to the beach, the main body remaining in the mountains.

The Cubans were hard up for supplies and ammunition, and were overjoyed at the sight of the Suwanee's cargo. Some, almost ravenous, hacked at the slices of bacon, and ate raw beef. They had been living on limes, cocoanuts and sweet potatoes. Ensign Gilpin of the Suwanee went ashore and accompanied the Cubans to their temporary camp inland, where he found ten or a dozen wounded men badly in need of surgical attendance. Bandages for them were sent from the Suwanee. The casualties were the result of a brush on the previous night with Spanish cavalry.

JUNE.

Highwaymen on Wheels.

A wheelman of West 46th Street, New York, was not long since attacked, robbed and left senseless by two highwaymen mounted on bicycles in Central Park. Repeated accounts of robberies by men mounted upon the swift revolving wheel have appeared in the papers in various parts of the country. In each instance, so far as learned, they have evaded the police. Those depredators of the health, diseases of the kidneys and bladder, will likewise in all likelihood escape arrest, and pursue their atrocious career unchecked, unless they are arrested in the outset by the potent intervention of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the finest diuretic, as well as tonic, known to modern times. The genial preventive named is the best known medicinal safeguard not only against renal, but also rheumatic and malarial disorders. It is at the start that disease is the more easily and completely overcome. The use of the Bitters is followed by the happiest results in cases of dyspepsia, constipation, liver complaint and nervousness.

Easy, When You Know How.

"Cienfuegos" is pronounced Sa en-fwa-gos, with the accent on the last syllable, but one. "Santiago" is pronounced San-te-ah-go. "San Juan" is pronounced San Hoo-an. "Cadiz" is pronounced Kadiz. "Cavite" is pronounced Ka-ve-ta, with the accent on the last syllable. As these places are likely to be ours at least for a time, it's well enough to be able to pronounce them properly.

Departments Differ in Spelling.

"It surprises as well as amuses me constantly," observed an old official to a Star reporter, "the way the various departments spell the words inclosure and indorsement. The state department adheres to spelling both words with an 'e instead of an 'i. So do the interior and agriculture department. The war and navy departments, on the other hand, make it 'indorsement' and 'inclosure,' while three-fourths of the officers of both branches of the service spell it endorsement and enclosure. I have no doubt that either or both are right. The strange part of it is that some official way has not been adopted that will apply to all of the departments. The board of geographical names has preformed a really valuable service in the settlement of the spelling of geographical names, and the standard being once officially arranged there will be no trouble in the future. It is a small matter, but it strikes me that the same or similar board should settle on whether inclosure and indorsement should be spelled with an 'i' or an 'e'. Often on the same paper these words are differently spelled. Of course the clerk endeavors to follow the rule of the particular department in which he is engaged, but this is not as easy as one would suppose, for various bureaus of the seme department are constantly mixing up the spelling, all of these claiming to be right.

Queen Regent Said to be Ill.

LONDON, June 9.—The Madrid correspondent of the Daily News says; "The queen regent is said to be in ill-health. She hardly ever appears in public, though she drives daily in the wilderness behind the palace.

ANDREW G. CURTIN'S GRAVE.

How the Resting Place of the Old War Governor Appeared on Memorial Day.

Thirty-seven years ago there went from Bellefonte to Harrisburg to assume the reins of government of State a man as yet little known in public life, outside his home dominion, but when the oath of office was administered which made Andrew Gregg Curtin Governor of Pennsylvania it gave to the people of this great Commonwealth a wiser head than was ever dreamed of and a leader whose administration won for him and his State the plaudits of the whole world. But this is history. His whole after life, from that memorial day in January, 1861. up to the fateful day, October 7, 1894, when the whole country learned with the deepest feeling of sorrow of Curtin's death, and again on the 10th of October, when thousands of his fellow kinsmen under the government he did so much to sustain and keep united followed the silent form to its last resting place and stood beside the bier as the body was lowered in the tomb, is also history.

Scarcely two months after Curtin's death a movement was started in this place for the erection of a monument to his memory. More than $1,000 were pledged as the beginning of a fund for the building of a $25,000 memorial. A permanent committee was appointed. with General James A. Beaver as chairman, and, though the confession is made with reluctance, the movement is no further advanced today than it was in January, 1895. Two attempts have been made to secure an appropriation from the State to assist in the work, but always met with a failure. It is the general belief, however, that an appropriation is not necessary and that if the question of raising the money was left to the citizens of the State there would be little trouble in securing an ample fund for building the monument. Visitors to Bellefonte inquire the first thing for the Curtin monument and are not slow in expressing surprise and disappointment when informed that none has yet been erected.

The only monument thus far put up in honor of the "Old War Governor" is the massive stone shown in the accompanying illustration. It is a solid piece of carved and polished granite, weighing more than four tons, and was put down by the dead chieftain's family. The picture shows the grave and surroundings as they appeared on Decoration Day, May 30, 1898. The large plaque of immortelles at the head of the grave is the offering of the Pennsylvania Reserve Association, of Philadelphia, a custom they have kept up every Memorial Day since the Governor's death. At the foot stands the flag and marker of Gregg Post, No. 95, G. A. R., of Bellefonte, of which Governor Curtin was an honorary member. On top of the stone reposes the floral offerings of family and friends.

Every Memorial Day Curtin's grave is the scene of special services in addition to the general memorial service held in honor of the heroic dead, and not one of the thousands who visit the Union cemetery on that day but what pays a tribute to his memory by visiting his tomb, while many eyes are moist with tears as they recall his great work and habitual goodness and kindness to all. History tells us that there was only one Washington, but one Lincoln, one Garfield, and just as truly is it that there will be only one Curtin. Whether there be or not a monument erected to his memory in the public square of Bellefonte, the greater, grander monument built by his own hands will never crumble nor decay as long as American history endures, and generation after generation will continue to visit the beautiful spot in the "home of the dead on the hill" which marks the repose of Andrew G. Curtin.

LIGHTNING'S DEADLY SHOCK.

Mrs. Charles Rote of Near Bellefonte Badly Injured.

On Saturday afternoon a heavy thunder storm passed over Bellefonte, and during its progress the lightning struck a tree beyond Bush Addition severely stunning several people in that vicinity.

The most severely injured was Mrs. Charles Rote who lives along the road leading to Roopsburg. She was at work putting down a carpet and had a tack hammer in her hand when the crash came. Neighbors hearing her fall rushed in and found her unconscious and prostrate on the floor.

Medical attendance was at once summoned in the person of Dr, Kirk, but her condition was found to be so serious that Dr. M. J. Locke was also sent for. At first the doctors believed her case hopeless but after an hours hard work consciousness returned and hopes began to be entertained for her recovery. All Saturday afternoon and evening and Sunday morning her condition remained serious, one convulsion would follow another.

Sunday afternoon she began to improve and her recovery is now believed to be possible. It is thought that her nervous system has suffered a severe shock however which will take many days to get over.

OLD GLORY TO THE BREEZE.

The Employees of A. G. Morris Raise a Beautiful Flag.

Friday evening at 7 o'clock the employees of A. G. Morris lime Kilns along the Milesburg pike raised a beautiful flag to the breeze on a flag pole seventy-five feet high.

Probably five hundred people witnessed the proceedings, and much enthusiasm was displayed. As the big flag was being unfurled a lot of small flags fell out of the folds and fluttered gracefully down on the heads of the spectators, and the spectacular effect was all that could be desired.

The music for the occasion was furnished by the Bellefonte band. Two eloquent addresses were made by Gen. James A. Beaver and J. C. Meyer Esq.

—Don't forget that the Undines will hold their big picnic at Hecla Park this year on July 4th.

FINE EXHIBI DRILL.

STATE COLLEGE, June 13.—The thirty-eighth annual commencement of the Pennsylvania State College began here yesterday, when the baccalaureate sermon was preached in the college chapel by Rev. Dr. Lawrence M. Colfelt, of Philadelphia. An immense crowd was present, as this was also in the nature of the doctor's farewell sermon to the collegians, he having served them the past two years as college preacher and dean of ethics. Rev. Mr. Colfelt took for his text 1 Samuel, xiv, 6:—

"And Jonathan said to the young man that bore his armor: Come, let us go over to the army of those uncircumcised. It may be that the Lord will work for us. For there is no restraint of the Lord to save by many or by few."

"History does not record a more quixotic enterprise than that of Jonathan and his armor-bearer as they scaled the cliff in the face of the Philistine garrison and laid about so lustily as to precipitate a panic in the enemy's ranks more disastrous than any battle. But the entrance to Santiago harbor has just witnessed a deed which shows that the race of heroes is not extinct and that America can count on her youth making as utter self-sacrifice in great emergencies as ever glorified the traditions of brave men. The intelligent, cool, careful manner in which Lieutenant Hobson ran the Merrimac into that narrow inlet and corked the bottle, regardless of sunken mines and the point-blank fire of Spanish batteries was as gallant a deed as ever was celebrated in the song or story of any nation.

"It is for this rare and distinguished service that the college-bred man is called by all the obligations of his superior culture to especially volunteer. First, the educated man can render distinguished service by cherishing an exalted ideal of life. The world has a right to look to the college for its ideal men—men of distinguished manliness in which there shall be no meanness, no baseness, but who can stand amid all the temptations to petty selfishness, strong and tender and true.

"The college-bred man can render distinguished service by dignifying work. Every workman, though his own work be ever so humble, should perform it so thoroughly that he will be not a mere workman, but an artist. The college-bred man is obligated to distinguished service as a citizen. Amid the urgent political problems of our time the people lift eager voices of appeal to our educated men for guidance and inspiration. If the highest intelligence can give no direction, if the oracles are dumb or give ambiguous responses in the hours of national crisis, what hope that the exigent questions of national life will be solved wisely and well?"

The second day of the annual commencement of the Pennsylvania State College had its pleasure much marred by rainy weather, but in spite of this the exercises were well attended.

The annual intercollegiate contest, which was to have taken place Monday afternoon, had to be postponed until 10 a. m., Tuesday, on account of rain.

In the evening at 8 o'clock the Junior Oratorical contest took place in the chapel before a large and fashionable audience which filled the pretty hall to the doors. The stage was beautifully decorated with flowers and potted plants and presented a fine appearance. Lettan & Chappell's orchestra, of Williamsport, was present and furnished the music for the occasion in their usual splendid style.

President George W. Atherton presided and introduced the speakers.

The judges for the evening were Rev. D. O. Dennison, Prof. Fred Lew Pattee and Rev. G. W. White.

After music by the orchestra the first speaker of the evening was introduced—Mr. Victor Milton. His subject was "Perserverence Wins." He handled the subject in an excellent style

He was followed by Francis Martin Carpenter who spoke on "Inspiration." This was also a most excellent address.

The other speakers and their subjects were Newton Wells McCollum—"Up guards and at them"; Harry H. Mallory—"The first American"; Dan Ellsworth Carpenter "Judge Lynch and his influence"; William Harry Thompson—"The American sailor." This last was a most excellent speech and deserves special mention.

At the close of this address and while the judges were deciding on their decision, at the request of Dr. Atherton the audience arose and sang with much enthusiasm while the orchestra played that grand old song, "The Star Spangled Banner."

The decision of the judges was announced by Rev. Dennison. First prize—Dan Ellsworth Carpenter, of State College; second—Harry H. Mallory.

After the contest receptions were held by the Beta Theta Pi, the Phi Gamma Delta and the Phi Kappa Pi fraternities at their respective club houses, while various of the club organizations received and gave impromptu dances at the University Inn.

Tuesday proceedings at the commencement exercises of the Pennsylvania State College were fraught with great interest and the fair weather which prevailed drew an immense crowd of visitors. This is said so far to have been the most successful commencement in point of attendance and everything considered ever held by this institution.

At 8.30 the annual meeting of the alumni association was held and business of importance transacted.

At 9.45 A.M. an artillery salute awakened the echos and soon the vicinity of the college was a scene of bustle and excitement.

At 10 A. M. the annual meeting of the board of trustees was held in room 121 main building. The old board was reelected for the ensuing year, except one Hon. Francis Jordan whose unexpired term as filled by electing Judge Cyrus Gordon of Clerfield.

The annual dinner of the Alumni association which took place at 12 o'clock in the armory was the big event of the day. Promptly at the hour named those holding tickets gathered in the main corridor of the College building and marched from there to the armory.

The armory was beautifully decorated with flowers and potted plants. Lettan and Chappel's orchestra, of Williamsport, furnished delightful music during the progress of luncheon.

The banquet was served by caterer B. C. Achenbach of Lock Haven in his usual fine style. Plates were laid for 400 people and nearly that number were present. The following bill of fare was served:

Bouillon

Turkey Tongue Ham
Chicken Salad Lobster Salad
Salt Wafers
Pickles Olives Cheese

Ice Cream and Strawberries
Lady Cake Pound Cake
Angel Food
Assorted Small Cakes

Oranges Bananas Raisins

Coffee Tea.

Gen. James A. Beaver acted as toastmaster and when every body had satisfied the inner man to his hearts content he rapped for order. In his usual excellent manner he extended a hearty welcome to all present. He said that this has been the most successful year in the history of the institution. The class of '98 contains 44 members the largest ever sent out. He asked them all to rise in their seats and give the college and then the class yell in succession which they did, with a vim that made the hall ring. The General said he expected much of this class and gave them a hearty welcome to the alumni.

The speakers and their subjects were introduced as follows; "The College and the World" Dr. Lawrence M. Colfelt.

"The U. S. Department of Agriculture and Good Roads." E. G. Harrison of Agricultural Department, Washington D. C. "The Alumni" I. P. McQuery, of Oscecola. Class of '98 E. V. Rawhn. "College Work and its Benefits." Dr. G. W. Atherton. There were other toasts on the program but owing to other events on the program they were compelled to be dispensed with.

3.00 P. M. saw an immense crowd gathered on the campus to witness the exhibition drill of the State College cadets, under Major J. A. H. M. Andrews. Previous to the drill the troops were drawn up in line and General Beaver introduced Col. James P. Coburn, of Bellefonte, who presented the battalion with a beautiful silk flag, in an eloquent and appropriate address. It was received for the cadets by Major Andrews who heartily thanked the doners for their liberality. After this the cadets were put through many difficult manoeuvers including a sham battle and winding up with a dress parade. Their drilling elicted praise and they were enthusiastically cheered. The day's enjoyment wound up with the presentation of "The Rivals" by the college dramatic society before a large and fashionable audience.
